First Assembly Held Wednesday Morning

A general assembly was called Wednesday at 11:30 to arrange for the Institute hour. Mr. Rodgers, Director of the Summer Session, presided at the meeting. Several important announcements were read.

Dr. Harvey voiced his appreciation for the large enrollment and extended a cordial welcome to all the students.

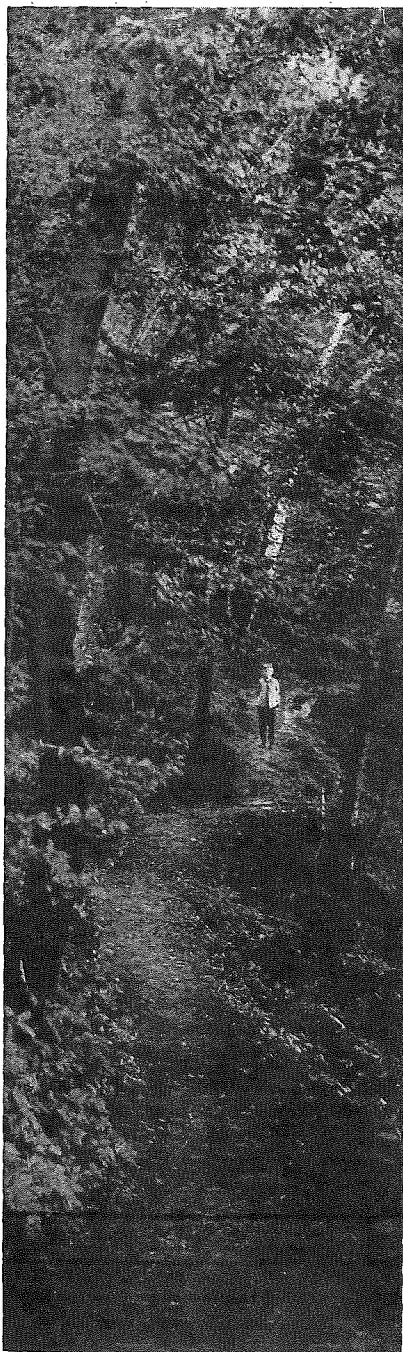

A brief talk was given by him on the value and purpose of the Institute hour. He told of the value of organizing schools for training people to do things quickly and efficiently. He spoke also of the new things introduced into the schools to meet the demands of the present time. Great emphasis was placed by him on Vocational Education, which had been ignored in the past, but would be called for greatly in the future.

Large Enrollment of Enthusiastic Students

Enthusiasm is found on every hand. Students and faculty alike, are enthusiastic with the opening of the summer session, and the interest in the special war courses is widespread.

This enthusiasm is also shown in the exceptionally good enrollment in the Household Arts courses. About 132 are enrolled. The most popular courses are those pertaining to war work, such as food conservation, canning and preserving, food problems and nursing.

The enrollment in the Industrial Arts department is increasing each day and no accurate figures are obtainable at this time. All the lecture courses are well filled. The course in gas engine works is especially popular. There is a big demand for the courses in the machines due to the war activities of the schools all over the country.

Follow this trail to Point Comfort Saturday afternoon and join in the annual summer session picnic.

Vocational Directors Hold Important Meeting

The directors of the vocational schools of Wisconsin held a meeting Tuesday at 4:30 in the Industrial Arts building. Mr. Gunn presided at the meeting. Dr. Harvey gave a short talk on the work of the school, and spoke of the attitude of the State Board of Education toward the directors' work during the summer session. Mr. Gunn resigned his position because of his connection with the State Commission. He spoke briefly on the splendid co-operation he received from the directors, and hoped that it would continue in the future as it had in the past. Mr. Whitcomb of Oshkosh was appointed to fill the vacancy, and took charge of the business meeting which followed. He brought to the minds of the association a number of vital points which are to be taken up at their next annual meeting.

Household Arts Director Has War Garden

Much response and enthusiasm has been shown throughout the country in the appeal for making war gardens. Miss Kugel showed her patriotism by spending a portion of her time this summer caring for a war garden at her home in Ohio. Much of her time was spent in digging potatoes and preserving of various vegetables, especially peas and beans.

There are quite a few expressing interest in tennis and a meeting will be called early next week to organize a club. A nearby court is available. Watch the Bulletin boards for announcements.

First Edition of Summer Session

The Editorial Staff of the Stoutonia does not deem it necessary at this time to offer a word of apology for this week's issue. The work could not be started until rather late in the week, and material was not at hand for publication. A majority of of the staff are unfamiliar with the publication of a school paper. We will endeavor to make improvements in the later issues.

We kindly ask that all assist in collecting material for use in the paper and that all undue criticism be left until the close of the session.

One of the special students while walking past Tainter Annex, remarked to a regular student: "Gee, it makes me homesick to go past here."

It seems as though the Industrial Arts specials have had less work in the library this summer. At least they don't seem to frequent the place as usual.

A. Edwin Billack, who left us in May to teach at Dunwoody Institute of Minneapolis, is back for the summer session. Mr. Billack says he spent ten pleasant weeks at Dunwoody.

Mr. G. F. Buxton, former Director of Industrial Arts at the Stout Institute is studying at Teacher's College, Columbia University this summer.

Word has been received that Thos. King, a student of the special class, has recently enlisted as a second class seaman.

Why I Came To

Stout Institute

Briefly stated, I came here to work and play. If I follow my plan, I shall work at printing and play at tennis; but, following a strong tendency, I may change that plan, play at printing and work at tennis.

Two factors are likely to interfere with this tendency. First Stout Institute seems to be a place where anyone having the inclination to work will find ample opportunity and encouragement. In the second place, the only tennis court I have so far seen is grown over with weeds and apparently the game is not very popular here. However, since I have investigated more thoroughly the opportunity for printing than I have tennis, I may yet find an opportunity of getting "trimmed up" in tennis occasionally, for my interest in the game is based more on enthusiasm than skill.

N. B.—That there is opportunity for work here is evidenced by this article in that it is on a suggested topic in the printing class. The main "inspiration" in it being a hope that it will be read by enough other "enthusiasts" to make the game possible soon.—
J. H. S.

Mr. J. R. Mulholland, Class of '12, who is now teaching in the Clairton High School Manual Training Department, Clairton, Pennsylvania, has enlisted in the mechanical department of the Aviation. Mr. Mulholland expects to be called soon. Another star for the Stout Service Flag.

What Our Boys

Have Been Doing

Harry Potter has been in the employ of the La Crosse Tractor Co., working in the machine shop. Donald Goodrich has been doing farm work.

Irwin Pearson has been doing construction work in his home town.

Leo Jenkins has been helping in his father's creamery.

Ernest Warnecke has been employed by the Madison Gas Co.

Otto Romberger has been employed on a farm in Kansas.

Harold Camp has also been working on a farm.

Clarence Berg has been doing construction work in Lead, S. D.

We wonder why Pearson sold his canoe.

Annual Summer Session

Picnic a Success

The day for our annual summer session picnic was exceedingly pleasant. The sun shone bright and invited all smiling people to participate in the pleasures of the afternoon.

How did we get to Point Comfort? Why, a number of ways. Some took canoes, some went in motor boats, and others walked. Which method of transportation is best we cannot say. Although a number of students claimed they would have arrived there sooner, if they had walked rather than riding in one of the old motor boats, for the old gentleman running the boat declared that it had never acted that way before.

Upon arriving at the Point we had no difficulty in finding our correct place for standing and amusing ourselves. For the men were seated or standing at one end of the grounds and the women at another place. The mixer chairman cannot be blamed, however, as the picnic was not advertised as a mixer. Nevertheless, the picnickers took their own initiative and many new acquaintances were brought about.

Who was the chairman of games? Mr. Miller must have been. At least he took the initiative to see that the sports were carried out to a success. Athletic contests furnished the entertainment for the afternoon. The first number was a boxing match between Concrete Henke and Gunboat Detzen. These men had been swimming for two hours previous to the match and hence could not do justice to their renowned reputations.

A blind-folding boxing match, in which Berg, Halverson, Johnson, and Reppert, participated, was the next number on the program. The mysterious thing about this match was that Berg seemed to see better with a fold across his eyes rather than with his glasses.

A tug-of-war between a number of the boys of the school and the older men was an interesting scene. There were about twenty men on each side. Three rounds showed that the strength of the younger men was far superior to that of the older men.

The ball game was also an interesting event of the afternoon.

Mr. Ray and Mr. Burdick met Mr. Henke and Mr. Ehrhard in a dousing match. We cannot definitely say which side won in the game. We are sure, however, that each of the four contestants received his full share of the dousing.

An excellent dinner, prepared by members of the Household Arts department was served at 6 p.m. The members of the Industrial Arts department now have no reason to doubt the ability of the Household Arts students.

The picnic adjourned about 7:30, and all report having spent a very pleasant afternoon.

State Director Gives Interesting Lectures

Last Thursday and Friday the directors of Vocational Schools, had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Callahan, the State Director of Vocational Education from Madison. He spoke of the cooperation of the directors and the community. This is necessary as there are many problems confronting the directors, which should be brought before the public. He likewise spoke of the attitude and the interest of our government toward the work.

Although we have the work fairly well organized, we need your help. Support the Stoutonia.

Apprenticeship Law

Clearly Explained

Monday at 3 o'clock, Mr. Schrimshaw, who is State Supervisor of Apprenticeship, with the State Industrial Commissioner, gave a talk on Apprenticeship. The particular phase which he developed was the evolutionary aspect. He read a paragraph from Adam Smith's book, which showed that in former times apprenticeship was the only form of education.

During the Twelfth century, apprenticeship was spoken of in southern England. The particular form of apprenticeship was that in connection with the Manor Farms. The small villages connected with these farms had all the occupations necessary for their maintenance. The village represented a skilled community. The boy worked with his father and learned the industry by practical contact with it.

This form of apprenticeship prevailed through the centuries until commerce assisted in the growth of the cities and industries. It became necessary to protect industry. This led to the organization of the merchant guilds. They were formed to prevent the encroachment of unskilled labor into the trades. These guilds worked successfully until the Fourteenth and Fifteenth century when immigration from the rural districts into the cities brought much unskilled labor with it to practice trades. The rules of the guilds could no longer be enforced.

The national spirit of apprenticeship continued to grow and in 1555, during Queen Elizabeth's reign, the Statute of Apprentices was passed. This Statute was good for a time only. The change in conditions and industries and the lack of proper machinery

How Our Mechanical Force Is Organized

The print shop like all other places of practical production has so organized its working force so that the best results will be attained. It is a well known fact that if the Stoutonia or other work is to be put out on a certain date, someone must be responsible for the output of this work.

Mr. Kraemer has been elected as editor-in-chief of the Stoutonia, and is responsible for the make-up of the paper. Mr. Janke, the mechanical superintendent, is held responsible for the out-put of the paper, and in order that the work may be carried out systematically he has the following foremen in his charge.

Miss Miller, foreman of composition and distribution.

Mr. Sandt, foreman of Stone-work.

George Buxton, foreman of presses.

Mr. Lawshe has charge of the proofreading.

Mr. R. Jackson has charge of the binding.

NOTICE - The Moschel-Janke committee appointed in June will meet August 28, 1918, before leaving for parts unknown.

There seems to have been a little misunderstanding in the Junior Red Cross work. The thought was to have the children of Menomonie come certain afternoons a week, so that the students interested in the work could see just how it was organized and carried on. This did not materialize.

Apprenticeship Law Clearly Explained

to administer the statute made it difficult to have the law enforced. It was this law, to which English industrial success is attributed.

In the Eighteenth century, the introducing of machinery and the increase in commerce brought about the partial downfall of apprenticeship. People began to feel that the government should not interfere in the business.

Today again apprenticeship is spoken of as being vital in the vocational work. Apprenticeship is only one phase of our vocational education. When properly taught it fits into places which our regular schools can't take care of. In apprenticeship the boy gets shop work and experience. Our vocational schools should teach the theory. These two must work hand-in-hand. As time proceeds, the problem of apprenticeship is going to receive more consideration.

On Wednesday, Mr. Schrimshaw concluded his lecture on Apprenticeship. He told of the method employed by the State in executing the law. A code report of shop supervision for the entire years of apprenticeship is kept by the director. From this report the director can readily see just what progress the apprentice is making, and whether there need be any investigation by the State. At the close of the boy's term of apprenticeship, a diploma is issued him. This certificate adds dignity to the apprenticeship and will help to increase their number. During the past year sixty-five certificates were issued. Appleton, Beloit, and Milwaukee had special graduating exercises for the apprentices.

Tennis To Be Realized at Stout

Posters placed in the Household Arts and Industrial Arts building early this week, were soon signed by twenty men and women and several others expressed a desire to play tennis this summer.

A meeting was held Wed. at 1:00 p.m. in room 111 of the Household Arts building and a dozen people were able to attend at that hour. After a brief statement of the object of the meeting by Mr. Sandt, who has been instrumental in getting the movement started, Mr. Carrington was elected president and he is to have charge of the court for the summer season.

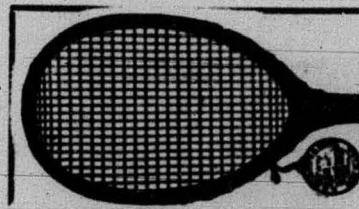

The First Congregational court, cor. Fifth and Wilson, is to be used.

It is hoped to have the court ready for playing by Saturday.

Those who expect to enjoy the privilege of playing, are expected to join in the work of getting it ready.

Former Stout Teacher Receives Good Promotion

All the old graduates of Stout will be interested to hear of the appointment of Mr. Geo. M. Brace, a former instructor at The Stout Institute, to the position of supervisor of high school and grade work in the city of St. Paul. Heretofore only grade work throughout the city was under one head, but with Mr. Brace's appointment his supervision will include all high school work as well.

Those of us who remember Mr. Brace and his work here at Stout, think of him as a willing helper, an excellent instructor, and a good friend. We feel that in his new position he will not only be these, but an able executive, and a man well prepared for his work.

St. Paul is to be congratulated on securing Mr. Brace for their leader in industrial work.

Miss Blanch Campbell who has been the assistant manual training teacher at the Winona State Normal School, Winona, Minn., the last two years, has resigned her position there in order to accept a responsible position at Atlanta, Ga.

While at Winona, she had charge of all the Industrial Arts work of the first six grades and the Normal classes taking Industrial Arts courses. She did excellent work at Winona and the school regretted to lose her.

Miss Campbell was a student at Stout Institute last summer.

Mr. Jarvis found a new book on The Food Problem in the Library and was heard to remark: "My wife left town last night and already at our house there is a food problem. The cream was sour this noon!"

Mr. Shannon: "Why, we all have them."

Mr. Curran: "But your pupils may not all have them. They are rather expensive."

Mr. Shannon: "Then I would buy a protractor. I would rather spend five cents any day than figure that out."

Wilson Creek seems to be a favorite haunt of the Fou-du-Lac girls. They are fond of various sports from gliding over the water in a Red-man's canoe, to flivvering in a Brush. Miss Jarvis, one of the girls, seems to have a cousin attending the Institute.

Alumni at Madison During the Summer

Twenty three of Stout's alumni students, and faculty were in Madison during the recent summer session at the University. Of these persons fourteen were enrolled in the student body of the "U"; three are enlisted at Camp Wisconsin, and six claim residence in Madison. The students were "Mothered" by Miss Ruth Phillips, our own jovial teacher in English and Miss Ann Schuler acted as "Auntie" to the crowd.

Park in the late afternoon and evening of July 17. The forwarned were rewarded but of course not all could attend. A goodly number met at corner of the State Historical Library and were waiting for the car when the accompanying picture was snaped.

We are not telling you this week who is in this picture. We want you to recognize as many as you can. Our secret we shall reveal in the next issue of the Stoutonia.

The Monona Park picnic was a very enjoyable reunion. "Mother" Phillips made the coffee while the were unable to attend the first. But the boys in kaiki for whom the second picnic was planned did not appear. Miss Phillips entertained her "children" very well. Miss Phillips' parents, sisters, and brother heiped in making us all feel at home.

The Stout spirit was renewed; our alma mater more appreciated; and the friendliness of teachers in vocational lines strengthened by these picnics. The summer session at Madison will live long in our memories because of the Stout reunions.

Vocational Directors Given Reception

On Friday evening, Aug. 9, an informal reception was given by the faculty for the vocational school directors and their wives. Married men of other courses and their wives were also present. The reception was held in the lower corridor and waiting room of the Household Arts building.

A suitable portion of the corridor on each side of the main entrance was screened off for this occasion; and inviting chairs placed in this part, aided in making the social feature attractive and agreeable. Miss Harvey had charge of this part of the program and succeeded in making everyone feel welcome.

The splendid arrangement of furniture, palms and ferns gave evidence of the good taste in decoration by Miss Messer, who had charge of this feature.

After spending a period of time in renewing and in making new acquaintances, the guests were invited to the waiting room where a cheerful grate fire (not at all uncomfortable) and delicious punch and appetizing cookies were enjoyed while seated in the cozy, comfortable, summer furniture with which the room was furnished. Though the punch was sugarless, and the

Stout Alumni Ready For Picnic At Monona Park

A few days after the session opened, familiar faces recognized one another and renewed acquaintances. Before the week was over, it was realized that quite a number of Stout graduates were about the campus. Some one told of somebody else and the list kept growing until the dozen mark was reached. It was here that Elizabeth F.C. Walker, '14, better known as "Betty" took a hold of things and said we were going to have a picnic. Through her persistent efforts, everybody with a Stout pedigree was warned of the event. At the suggestion of Florence Zeidler '15, a picnic was planned at Monona boys fed fuel to the fire. At this time, the writer gathered enough news about Stout Alumni to fill this whole issue but the Editor would not permit of the space. Those present at the Monona picnic pronounced it such a success that another one was planned at which the boys in uniform might attend. Miss Phillips suggested that we meet at her home on Sunday July 21st and enjoy our picnic supper on the porch of her home. We gladly accepted the invitation and again warned all of the plans. Several who attended the first picnic could not come to the second one and the later brought several who

Special Student Called In Draft

Irwin Kraemer, a student in the Special Class of Industrial Arts, leaves tonight for Lancaster. He has been called by his Local Draft Board to be sent to Kansas City, within five days after the 15th of August.

Mr. Kraemer, together with twenty-three others from Grant county are to receive training in the Sweeney Auto School, which has been taken over by the government. They are to receive special practice in gas engine and repair work.

Mr. Kraemer had signed a contract to teach printing at Oak Park, Ill. Oak Park loses a very promising instructor, as Mr. Kraemer has had considerable experience in printing and has proven very efficient along that line. For the past two weeks he has acted as Editor of the school paper, and as such has been very successful. The shift of the Stoutonia unite in wishing him the best of good luck in his new work upon which he is soon to enter.

The Menomine Club has received word from Franklin Gogins, a student of last year's Junior class, stating that he had been called by Uncle Sam and was soon to leave for Jefferson Barracks.

A City boy: "I am as strong as any of you. I work here in the canning factory."

Mayhall: "Ah, come on, don't talk to me. I worked in Texas in the cannon factory."

Secretary Leaves Stout For Milwaukee Position

Miss Caroline M. Helmer, who for several years has been secretary to President Harvey, has resigned her position. She is leaving Menomonee to accept the position as teacher in the Commercial Department of the Riverside High School at Milwaukee.

The faculty, student body and alumni will be sorry to hear of Miss Helmer's leaving. Everyone speaks highly of her faithfulness and efficiency. Through her manner and her wonderful business ability she has proven herself to be of great value as a member of the office staff.

Miss Helmer has been well liked by all, and has made many friends during her years of service as secretary. We wish her happiness and success in her new position.

Joint Meeting of Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A.

A joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. was held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms Sunday evening at 6:45.

The meeting was opened by the singing of two familiar hymns led by Mr. Pearson. Miss Jones then took charge of the meeting. A violin solo given by Mr. Cassel was enjoyed, after which Miss Longfellow gave the scripture reading from Chapter II of Luke, verses 40 to 50.

Mr. Westenberg, pastor of the Congregational church delivered a short address on Patriotism. He manifested to the young people the great responsibility placed upon them during this great war crisis and also the important part they will have to take in the future development of our country.

Rev. Westenberg's address was followed by a very sweet guitar solo by Miss Rice. The meeting closed by all uniting in giving the benediction.

One of the summer session students upon arriving at his rooming place, overheard a little boy say: "Oh, ma, he looks just like Jennerjahn." Who was the man?

The tennis court is now in condition to play, and all interested in playing are asked to take advantage of it whether they helped to get it into shape or not.

Practise up so you can join in some form of tournament the last week of school.

Mr. Sandt Trimmed In Tennis Match

As was stated in last week's issue of the Stoutonia, the Congregational tennis court was put into shape for playing by Saturday afternoon. Mr. Carrington assisted by several others, marked out the court shortly after dinner but for a time were unable to find a net.

Mr. Asp and Mr. Sandt were so eager to play they borrowed a clothesline from Rev. Westenberg for the first set, after which Mr. Carrington brought out the net, having finally located it in the basement of the church.

The Trimming.

Set 1.—Mr. Sandt started serving and won the first game. Mr. Asp served and won his serve. Both quickly realized that they had a problem in figuring out each others serves and weak points.

From here on for the rest of the set it was a neck and neck race, largely a server's battle, each winning his serve for the first four or five games. Mr. Asp finally won the set 7:5.

Set 2. After the first game in this set, the net was found and used. This or something else affected the playing for it lacked the "pep" of the first set. Mr. Asp won the set 6:3.

Set 3. This set like the first was a real contest. Mr. Asp showed signs of fatigue while Mr. Sandt, apparently having benefited by saving himself during the second set or having a little more endurance was leading and had the set soon within a point several times, when Mr. Asp recovered and prevented defeat. They mutually agreed to stop the contest on account of missing their supper. If they continued, and both felt the need of nourishment by this time and so the set ended 6:6.

Each has a different style of playing which makes an interesting game to both contestants and spectators.

The morning after the night before: Mr. Dow cleans his teeth with shaving stick.

Personal Items About The Alumni

Word has been received that Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Schoch of New Ulm, Minn., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to Mr. Reid Murray of Manawa, Wis. Miss Schoch will be remembered as a leader among the Lynwood girls while she was here. She was graduated in June, 1917, and taught household arts in the schools at Manawa last year. Mr. Murray is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and at present is employed with the College of Agriculture at Madison as assistant professor in Agricultural Extension through County Agents. The Stoutonia extends congratulations to the young couple.

Charles Beardsley, superintendent of vocational education of Eau Claire, was in the city last Friday looking for teachers. Irwin Pearson, one of the graduates of the Special Class has accepted a position in that city.

Dr. Harvey has been planning a few general assemblies, which we can look forward to with great interest. The importance of the sympathy on the part of the teachers toward the pupils, and the importance of ambition on the part of the teachers to increase their profession are to be discussed, and will be of vital interest to the student body.

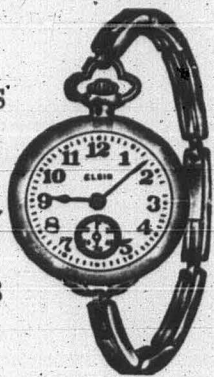

Miss Dunn's Food Conservation class has been working on sugarless combinations; that is sweetening without sugar by the use of some substitute. The cookery I class prepared and served the lunch at the reception last Friday.

cookies, wheatless, the guests relied both refreshments judging from the way they eagerly accepted an invitation to have a second helping.

All present felt grateful to Dr. Harvey, Mr. Rodgers, and Miss Kugel for providing such a pleasant social evening.

A Trip Through The Household Arts Building

"We may live without poetry, music and art;
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends, we may live without books;
But civilized man cannot live without cooks."

Owen Meredith.

This thought seems to have been uppermost in the minds of the men so they started on a tour of inspection of the Household Arts building last Thursday morning. The various groups were escorted through the place by attractive young ladies. Dr. Harvey and Miss Kugel also proved valuable guides.

The house furnishing and decoration was the first department visited. The young ladies were busily engaged studying plans and decorations of modern homes. From here they were escorted through the Chemistry laboratory and Miss Williams' interesting microbe class, to the Food Study class conducted by Miss McCalmont.

These departments, though they were interesting, did not touch the right spot in the men's physical makeup. But, behold! A changed expression came over their faces as they entered Miss Dunn's Food Conservation class. Every man seemed pleased to lo-ter about the room, gazing longingly at the wheatless wafers and timbles which the young ladies were making. Long after the various groups had left the room, one lone man was seen leaning against a table upon which some of the dainty food was placed. One of the men volunteered to give the girls some very valuable suggestions. I would advise Miss Dunn to interview Mr. Nelson on some of his methods of cookery. He suggested to one young lady to put fat on her bread-board, in order that the wafers would slip off more easily. Mr. Nelson was quite pleased to notice the new method of cooling biscuits by means of the electric fan. I rather question his modern method. Upon closer observation he found that vegetables were being dried. Some of the men were fortunate in sampling the food. One man after tasting of the bread exclaimed, "Well, now, that's real honest to gosh bread."

The cooking department is equipped with all modern conveniences, from the iceless cooler to the fireless gas stove. Much credit is due Dr. Harvey and Miss Kugel for the splendid arrangement and equipment of this department.

Leaving these rooms, the next classes visited were the Costume Designing and Sewing. The cutting tables attracted considerable attention. These were invented without a patent by Dr. Harvey. His modesty prevented his mentioning them. The laundry room, furnished with a good steam dryer, and the refrigerating plant, proved of interest to many.

The members of the Industrial Arts classes feel well repaid for the pleasant hour spent, and wish to thank Dr. Harvey, the faculty and the students for the cordial reception extended.

Annual Summer Session Reception at Tainter Hall

The annual class reception held Saturday evening, Aug. 17, at Tainter Hall proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of the summer session, the reception committee composed of some very becoming young ladies performed their duties very successfully by making everyone acquainted. Mrs. Hahn proved to be the best at retaining the names of the young men and succeeded in finding partners for quite a few of them.

Some very delightful and appropriate vocal selections, which were very highly appreciated, and which received a hearty applause, were rendered by Mr. Good, accompanied by Mrs. Good, and Miss Tilton accompanied by Miss Smith. This was followed with a trombone solo by Mr. Boerner, which was well executed. Mrs. Dowe, preceptress of the dormitory, and the hostess of the evening, delighted her guests by granting them permission to enjoy the rest of the evening in dancing. The orchestra, which was composed of five well known students, furnished some very delightful music. A very delicious beverage was served by some delightful young ladies, whose bewitching smile seemed to increase the thirst of some of the young men.

The reception was attended by about 200 persons, consisting of directors, teachers, and students, some of the honor guests being Dr. Harvey, Mr. John Calahan, secretary of the State Board of Vocational Education, Mr. E. E. Gunn, W. F. Faulkner, and Mr. Graham, state director of vocational education.

First Stout Alumnus Killed in Action

First Lieut. Marvin T. Thompson, Headquarters Company, Thirtieth United States Infantry, a native of Menomonie, was killed in action July 15. Lieut. Thompson is the first Stout Alumnus to lay down his life for the cause of humanity. He entered Stout in Sept. 1915 and received his diploma Aug. 1917. His agreeable manner won him great favor with the students. This good quality later helped him in receiving his commission. He enlisted with Co. H. in 1917 and upon the expiration of his three-year term he was transferred to the Regular Army. That same year he was recalled for service with the reserves and sent to Camp Douglas to join Co. H. While he was at camp, he obtained permission to enter the Officer's Training Camp at Fort Sheridan.

On New Year's Day Lieut. Thompson sailed for France. In May 1918, he was assigned to the Thirtieth Inf. from which he was no doubt engaged in active service.

The Stoutonia and friends of Lieut. Thompson wish to extend their sympathy to his family and relatives.

Stout to Become Unit of S. A. T. C.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 19, 1918.
The President Stout Institute,
Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Your institution having satisfied conditions prescribed in circular letter of June twenty ninth, upon basis of your figures, steps will be taken at once to establish a unit of S. A. T. C. May be necessary to combine with neighboring institution. An officer of the United States Army will be detailed and upon arrival proceed with the organization of your unit. Rifles, uniforms, over coats and other equipment will be shipped at an early date. Advise us by wire as to date of opening.

Harris Acting Adjutant General

The Stout Institute is one of several institutions to organize a Student Army Training Corps. Boys between the ages of 18 to 21 are asked to enlist with the idea of entering the Institute to receive special training for particular positions in the army best suited to their qualifications. Those especially adapted for commissions will receive special training. Aside from this they will receive special military training.

Dr. Harvey wishes every student to help in this campaign in securing boys to take advantage of this opportunity.

Because many of the directors find it necessary to return to their cities at an early date, Dr. Harvey's class in Vocational Teacher Training will not meet during the last week of the summer session.

Peter Krogstad of the class of '12 is a censor of soldier mail in France.

Otto E. Brunkow may be found among the soldiers of Camp Grant, Ill.

A Trip Through Industrial Arts Building

The enjoyment and appreciation of the little trip through the Manual Training department last Thursday morning was sufficiently evident to warrant no further expression. At the appointed time and place the Household Arts students appeared on the scene and were met by young men who escorted them through the various departments in groups of eight or more, with a private party, now and then, of two or three. In every case, however, the students appreciated the splendid choice of efficient conductors.

Those who entered the M. T. building started their tour in the wood turning room. Several students were at work and they certainly did make the chips fly. It was especially interesting to see the articles that had been made there.

The pattern making room was the next stop on the tour. Various patterns of the work done by M. T. students were on display. The little adjoining demonstration room suggested real convenience.

Next they took the "self-starting elevator" to the printing room. The work done there is self-explanatory.

The exhibit room also on the second floor, was surely a revelation of many long hours at work in the elementary wood work and drawing rooms. In the former class, the problem that morning was the making of coat hangers.

In the cabinet making room, everyone admired the excellent construction of the finished problems displayed and of those partially completed also.

Lastly, the mill room and carpentry room were visited. It was in the latter room where all were interested in the practical problem of real life size—a garage.

The only objection to the little trip that the members of the Household Arts department have to offer is the fact that the time was so limited. It was a truly instructive tour and all who enjoyed it wish to take this opportunity to express their appreciation to the Manual Training students and faculty.

Students Visit The Piano Factory

Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock, thirty students from Mr. Grubert's classes headed for Wilson Creek. Through a little blundering, the students arrived safely, not up the creek, but at the piano factory. A visit through the Holland Piano Factory proved a very interesting trip. Crowding into the factory, the students peered about for buried treasure.

The process through which a piano goes in its construction is briefly given in the following account.

The lumber must first be well seasoned and then put in a drying kiln. It is kept in this kiln from six to ten days, at a temperature from 160 to 180 degrees Fahrenheit. The lumber is then moved to the cross cut saw which cuts the material into different lengths according to the style and size of the finished product. The stock is then taken to the rip saw which rips the boards into the different widths. By the old method, the material after being ripped, had to be jointed before it could be glued. Many factories are now installing a new kind of ripping machine which saws the material so as to make good glue joints. This saves a great deal of labor and material.

The next process the stock

Why was Miss Miller so anxious to help write up the directory for the Industrial Arts department?

Distributing type offers the distributors a chance to discuss the reception of Friday evening. How about it, Mr. Lawshe and Miss Miller?

Mr. Sandt, our business manager expects to leave us Saturday, Aug. 24. We are sorry to see you go so soon, Mr. Sandt.

Don't fail to have Mr. Nelson show you the type lice in the print shop before you leave summer school. For particulars, see Mr. Jarvis.

goes through is the gluing. It is glued and left in clamps for a few hours, after which it is jointed on one surface, and then run through the planer and reduced in thickness.

From the planer it is veneered. The cross binding is run through the gluing machine and is laid on the boards to be veneered, the veneer being laid on top of this. Between each piece of veneered stock a flat sheet of zinc is placed. It is then pressed with a hydraulic press. After the veneered stock is dry, it is taken to the shaper, where the rough edges of the veneer are taken off.

The stock is then jointed on one edge and ripped to the correct width and moved to the trim saw. After the material leaves the trim saw it is sanded on the big sander from which it passes on to the hand, or the belt sander.

The work passes on into the cabinet room, where a little finer work is done. In this room the cutting and matching of the veneer is usually done. The veneer also must be well seasoned.

The parts of the piano then leave for the staining room, and here receive several coats of stain and filler. The stock is then given five or six coats of varnish. After this is dry, it is coarse rubbed; then given a flowing coat of varnish and fine rubber.

While the different cases of the piano are going through the above process, something else is taking place in the plate setting room. The plates are attached to the piano backs and then they go to the stringer.

Going back to the rubbing room, the side gluer receives the piano parts and his work is to assemble and side-glue the piano.

The action is then put in the piano and it receives its first and second chipping. The next step is the regulating of the keys. From the regulator it travels to the polishers, and is polished thoroughly.

The piano is then given about three tunings. Much of the tuning in the Holland factory is done by blind men, their sense of hearing being so fine as to hear any defect in tone. The piano is then oiled to preserve the finish.

The last and most important of all is the final testing of the piano by the foreman. It is tested for tone and workmanship. If the test proves successful, the piano is carefully boxed and ready for shipment.

Before returning home, the students had an opportunity of spending a few moments in the Northwestern Cabinet Co. factory, where phonograph cabinets are made and finished.

Y's Have Unique Joint Meeting On Tainter Hill

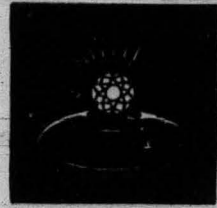

Last Sunday evening the Y. W. C. A. invited the Y. M. C. A. to hold a joint meeting on the hill behind Tainter Hall. It was a beautiful evening and those of us who attended spent a very pleasant hour. Robes, pillows, and papers were spread out on the grass on which we made ourselves comfortable or uncomfortable as the case may be.

Miss Ruth Fitch opened the meeting with a few remarks. This was followed by a short song session led by Mr. Pearson. Everyone joined in the singing. The birds in the pines above us helped us out, but afterward during the address they listened in impressive silence. Miss McCalmont offered the prayer and Elvi a Trapp read the scripture lesson.

Rev. Williams gave us all food for serious thought in his short address on "When The Boys Come Home." He told us it was inevitable that the boys would return with changed views toward certain aspects of religion and that we at home must strive to keep those phases alive.

A unique number on the program was the sacred solo by Ethel Tilton, who accompanied herself on the ukulele. Another song and the Mizpah benediction brought the meeting to a close.

William Weld, a student of 1916-17, is now stationed in Buffalo, N. Y. He is with the Curtis Aero Company as a draftsman.

Game of Mill or Nine Men's Morris

Some ten years ago, my attention was called to the game of mill in the seventh grade shop-work, when a number of mill boards were made.

I found that the children's parents and grandparents used to play the game quite generally in the Middle West some forty or fifty years ago. The game, being new to me, I started to trace its origin.

Never having been west farther than Pittsburg, Pa., before coming to Minnesota, and having formed my impressions of the Middle West through text books, needing revising, I naturally associated this game with the Indians. I felt certain it was an Indian game when I saw two fine specimens of the game in the Indian collection of the Field Museum at Chicago a short time afterwards. The curator of the museum, however, gave me several references which I found it to be an old English game.

Upon tearing down an English church built in the Twelfth century, the workmen discovered a stone with the plan carved on it. When it was carved upon the stone they were unable to determine.

It was originally played out of doors, the plan being marked out on the ground and stakes or stones of different shape or color used for men.

Shakespeare mentions the game in "Midsummer Night's Dream."

The plan consists of three concentric squares with lines connecting the middle points of all sides as shown in the illustration. The circular spots are the playing points.

Checkers, buttons, pegs, or disks of paper may be used for men. The plan may be marked on a piece of paper or cardboard and buttons or checkers used, making it easy to obtain; or a more complete board may be made by making it out of one half or three-fourths inch stock, about seven and one-half inches square or larger, boring holes for playing points and using dowel pins and about one and one-half

New Drawing Text Is Well Received

The new text book on Mechanical Drawing Problems by Edward Berg and Emil F. Kronquist is meeting with a hearty reception from teachers in high schools, normal schools, and vocational schools, on every hand. Since the book has been off the press the demand for copies has been so great that The Manual Arts Press which is publishing the text has been unable to supply the copies fast enough. The authors have prepared a manuscript that is worthy of strong approval, but even their wildest hopes did not imagine such a brisk demand for their work.

After years of experience at teaching mechanical drawing and of late years at the Washington High School in Milwaukee, the authors present a text that has been tried out. We wish more books might be written after the authors are sure of their material, as were Mr. Berg and Mr. Kronquist. The result would be fewer books but more of them worth considerable in educational values. There is more crowded in the 225 pages of this new text which only costs one dollar than in any previous mechanical drawing text even at a much greater price.

The book is intended for students and teachers, and gives them in a two year course, divided into four semesters a most excellent and carefully arranged series of progressive problems embodying the fundamental principles and examples of practical mechanical drawing. A specification sheet and layout sheet makes up each problem. Besides the required problems in the course, a very fine series of Supplementary Problems and a number of Reference Sheets are included in the text. A feature of the book is the well arranged text and the perfect plates with each problem. The student has constantly before him a very good example of a mechanical drawing and this should be a long way toward getting him to attain a good technique.

The Stoutonia congratulates the authors on the quality of their work. Summer session students are fortunate in having Mr. Kronquist here in person to give them the value of his teaching experience.

Mr. G. F. Buxton Goes to Indiana

A letter was received last week from Mr. Buxton, who has been studying at Columbia University. His work is finished, and he is now spending a week at Portland, Maine.

Many of his friends here will be interested to know that Mr. Buxton has been appointed Associate Professor of Vocational Education at Indiana University. He is to develop Industrial Teacher Training in Indiana under the Smith-Hughes law.

He expressed a regret at being unable to visit the summer session and renew old acquaintances.

The first week in September, he expects to spend in Menomonee and then move his home to Indiana. He extends greetings to his old friends.

The Stoutonia, members of the faculty, and students extend congratulations to Mr. Buxton, and wish him success in his new position.

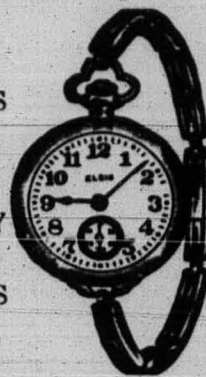

Pretty brave of you, Pearson! "If that horse hadn't stopped to drink, you would have been a hero." Some runaway.

inches long. It makes a good shop problem.

The board may be chambered and the playing points connected by veining.

This makes a good problem just now for the boys to "do their bit" for the soldier boys. "Quantity production" or commercial methods may be profitably demonstrated in the making of several dozen or more.

Rules of the Game.

Each player has nine men. A coin is tossed to see who starts the first game and alternate the starting after that. The men are placed one at a time alternately until each has placed his nine men. Each player tries to place three in a straight line and at the same time to prevent his opponent from getting three in a straight line. As soon as a player gets three in a line (not counting the diagonals) he has a "mill" and takes one of his opponent's men off the board. He must take one not a part of a mill if there are any on the board. If not, he may take one out of a mill. After all the men are placed, the play continues by moving along the lines to a vacant spot, one space at a time, trying to form and reform mills. A mill may be opened and closed. Every time a mill is formed or closed the opponent loses a man. When a player is reduced to three men, he may move to any vacant spot, no matter how many spaces he moves. This gives him a slight handicap and tends to prolong the game.

While the game is simple in plan and material needed, it permits of considerable thought and concentration.—J. H. Sandt.

Alumni at Madison During the Summer

In the last week's issue of the Stoutonia we promised to tell more about the Stout alumni who attended the Summer Session at Madison.

Grace Shugart, 1915, "Sugar" Princeton, Illinois. Miss Shugart taught in LaFarge, Wis. last year and she will teach in St. Croix Falls, Wis. this coming year.

Mary Rogers, Jonesboro, Arkansas. Miss Rogers attended the summer session at Stout 1917 and expected to be with us this summer but just at the close of her work in Madison, she was called home because of the sickness of her sister. She taught last year at Jonesboro, Arkansas, where Mr. Otto Brunkow taught this past year.

Elizabeth Frances Clarg Walker, 1914, "Betty", Mineral Point, Wis. Miss Walker taught in Montpelier, Indiana last year and expects to return there in September.

Ann Schuler, 1914, "Nancy", W. Johnson St., Madison, Wis. Miss Schuler taught in the Milwaukee Continuation School last year and she will return there this next year.

Rachel Lynch, 1913, "Ray", West Bend, Wis. Miss Lynch has been teaching at San Angelo, Texas and she will return again.

Ellen Teare, 1917, "Teary", Augusta, Wis. Miss Teare has been teaching at Merrilan, Wis. and expects to teach there this next year.

Ruth Mary Phillips, for the past eight years, teacher of English in the Stout Institute.

Melitta C. Heins, 1914, 811 Garfield St., Madison, Wis. Miss Heins is teaching in Rockport, Indiana and expects to return this year.

Esther M. Gunderson, '14 Marinette Wis. Miss Gunderson taught three years in Litcher Ia. She will teach this year at Lead S. D. where she taught the past season.

Florence Zeidler, 1915, Madison, Wis. Miss Zeidler is supervisor of Domestic Science at New Richmond, Wis., where she will serve again this coming year.

Besides those shown in the picture other alumni who attended the summer session at Madison were:

Phio Sterling, 1915, Oshkosh, Wis. Miss Sterling has been teaching in the High School at Oshkosh where she will be employed again next year.

Pluma Burnham, 1917, Carrington,

N. D. Miss Burnham taught Domestic Art and Science at Hillsboro, N. D. last year and shall teach there again this year. She is attending our present summer session.

Mr. John Lund, 1913, "Jack," Mt. Horab, Wis. Mr. Lund has been teaching at Reedsburg, Wis. but he is now moving to Beaver Dam where he is to take charge of the vocational work.

Alice M. Hodge, 1904 and Vera Skinner were attending the summer session but they did not get with the Stout crowd.

Harold Decker, 1914, "Deck" Menomonie. Mr. Decker will teach at Stoughton, Wis. next year. He is attending our present summer session.

J. E. Ray, 1917 and Charles E. Eslinger, 1912 were in Madison for the first five weeks of the summer session and completed their work by correspondence.

Mr. Paul H. Graven, 1911, and his wife, nee Emily Thomas 1909 are living in Madison where Mr. Graven is director of the Manual Arts work.

Mrs. Powell, nee Mildred Works, is also a resident of Madison.

The exchange of reminiscences, from all of these alumni was much enjoyed as opportunity was afforded. We wish others might have enjoyed the greetings and meetings as we did. It is the hope of all that whenever alumni get together they will not fail to in some way or another revive their interest in their alma mater. C.E.E.

Just a Word From Mr. Steendahl

Word has been received from Mr. Steendahl, who is now located as supervisor of all vocational work in Birmingham, Ala. Mr. Steendahl writes that he has attended a conference with the southern educators which was called for the purpose of determining the procedure to carry out the purposes of the Smith-Hughes law. Mr. Steendahl is about to undertake an industrial survey of the city which will help him in the formulation of the courses which are best adapted to the city's needs.

S. A. T. C. Outlook for Stout is Good

Prospects are good for the attendance of enough student young men in the Students' Army Training Corps of Stout Institute to insure the services of a Regular army officer. The present enrollment is 49, with an outlook of 100 more men on or about Oct. 1, thus making it a total of 149.

The first 108 men will be quartered at the Lynwood hall, and the Stori House, on Crescent Street, will accommodate the remainder. The cafeteria in the basement of the H. E. building will be used as the mess hall, and will, with ease, take care of 200 men.

Gov. Philipp issued a statement on the special session, asking for the appropriation of approximately $150,000 for the normal schools, to provide the necessary barracks and mess buildings for the housing and feeding of these young men. Money will not be needed here for barracks, as good housing facilities are already assured and should prove a good card for Stout in inducing young men to come here. But funds will be needed to make changes that will enable the institution to mess the men in the cafeteria and for other purposes. President L. D. Harvey has taken up with the governor the matter of including Stout Institute in such appropriations as may be made to the legislature in the next special session which will probably be on Tuesday, Sept. 24.

The government is urging high school graduates to attend S. A. T. C. at government expense as an officer or soldier of special service to the United States army.

The War department urges all high school graduates over 18 to enter this service and, to enable them to do so, offers to provide board, lodging, uniform and equipment, fees and tuition and full army pay, $30 per month. The government is searching the country to find men to supply its needs of thousands of army officers. This is a great opportunity so know your way and serve.

The Mill Class Make Tables for Mess Hall

The new mess room for the S. A. T. C. is to be located in the basement of the Home Economics building. The tables and benches to be used are being constructed by Mr. Hansen and the mill class, which is composed of the following students: Becklund, Blide, Biddick, Doyle, Fisher, Garnett, Henke, Hammes, Johnson and Valentine. These ten tables and twenty benches must be completed by October first and due to this fact, the work must be done in "rush style," but at the same time good.

The table tops are made of smooth-grained yellow pine flooring, glued together, and cleated on the under side to allow for expansion and contraction. The gluing of the tops will make them strong, smooth and sanitary, and with a coat of good varnish the tops will be much better than those covered with oil cloth as are used in most mess rooms. The benches will also be made in a strong way and varnished to match the tables.

Mr. Olson has been employed to cut several holes through the wall between the kitchen and mess room so as to make serving facilities better.

Lieutenant Paul Bailey, '08, has cabled to his family in this city that he had been slightly wounded. No idea of the nature of the wound was given in the message, but it is to be inferred that it is not serious at all. Lieut. Bailey was known to be in a training camp at the time he received the wound.

Large Audience Fills Stout Auditorium

The Dunn County Council of Defense are to be complimented for securing so good a patriotic speaker as Private Roscoe Chenevert of Colfax, who spoke Monday night in the Auditorium, before a crowded house. The audience was made up of students and faculty of the schools, townspeople, and residents of the country, who drove their cars many miles in the rain to hear Mr. Chenevert.

Not a one was dissatisfied. He had so much to tell and about so many different things that he had to skip from point to point every rapidly. We have read of the war; we have received letters telling about experiences of boys over there but it all was so vividly and so forcefully put by Chenevert that the picture was quite a different one. He kept the audience always on edge as he related his personal experiences. At times one would feel like crying, and laughing in spite of tears at the funny things that were bound to happen in the camp and trench.

The speaker told of his personal feelings in going "over the top" five different times and sent cold chills up and down the backs of his listeners as he told his story. He said we were in the war fighting not a ruler, not a people alone; but a system, the Prussian Military system that has not had respect for anything human and decent. The white flag and Red Cross have been respected in wars before this one but now they are objects of no regard to the "System." Mr. Chenevert gave the student soldiers in the audience some very worthy advice.

Your Support is Needed For the Stoutonia

The printing class as well as the officers of the Stoutonia after a judicious effort on the part of all its staff, and after spending many an hour in getting up enough advertisements and a number of items of news will become discouraged if the student body does not buy a copy of the only school paper. Those who have bought a copy will please urge the others to do likewise. We want you all to boost the "Stoutonia." Make a resolution when you buy this copy that you will not miss another issue.

The staff will greatly appreciate any items that will be given to fill up and make an interesting paper. Write something; let us know the joke you pulled off at the table or at school.

Schedule for the Practice Teaching

Mr. Curran called a meeting of the practice teachers 2 p. m. Monday at which time the assignments were made clear and explanations given for the work.

Mr. Curran explained the new system of the Junior and Senior High school and its effect on the practice teaching. The Senior High is made up of the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. Miss Schneider is principal of the Senior High school which is now confined to the 3rd floor of the Central school building. The Junior High is on the second floor and part on the first with Miss Emma Jungck as principal, and includes the 7th, 8th and 9th grades.

Because of the war work program with the S. A. T. C. the number and time of the practice classes are reduced but sufficient opportunity is given every boy to get his usual manual credits. In the Junior High the following work is scheduled:

7th Grade

Bricklaying
Arch. Drawing
Carpenter (to be given later).

8th Grade

Printing
Forging
Mech. Drawing (to be given later).

9th Grade

Cabinet Making
Wood Turning
Painting (to be given later).

In the Senior High the students of the 10th, 11th and 12th grades are permitted to elect Printing, Machine Shop, or Machine Drawing for the whole year.

There is to be no practice teaching in the primary grades this year. The Elementary Industrial Arts have been combined with the Drawing and Design and are to be supervised by Mrs. Zimmerman.

Mr. Curran will act as critic of the 5th and 6th grade bench work of Central and Coddington and the 7th grade work of N. Menomonie.

Big School "Mixer" At the Gymnasium

If you don't know what the meaning of the word "Mixer" is, come over to the gym or armory Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m. Have you ever been to a place where one must keep his thoughts, his ideas, his inner feelings of joy to himself?

It will be different when you head for the Mixer Saturday afternoon. Learn to know your fellow men, have out some of your joy and happiness and join the merry ring. The inner man will be taken care of by a variety of servants. Mr. Weiner, Mr. Sandwitch, Mr. Pickel and Mr. Coffee will donate their services free of charge at the kitchen. Join the free for all mixer Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m. Every student and faculty member are urged to be on hand. It's a school function.

As the Stoutonia is going to press, we have received word that Lieut. and Mrs. C. F. McCarthy have just arrived in Menomonie to take up their activities with the S. A. T. C.

STOUT SOPHOMORE CLASS.

The present emergency program for the first two weeks, schedules Section III to meet in the Print Shop, 9:30—11:00 a. m. This section is made up of Sophomores from whom the temporary editor and managers of the Stoutonia for the first issues have been selected. The class is as follows:

Edwin Clemenson
Warren French
Harold Jennerjahn
Wm. A. Karberg
Harry Kröll
Francis Mudrak
Bernace D. Reppert.

SENIOR HIGH CLASS.

The finest and largest class of students ever enrolled in a Stout practice class in printing, now meets from 1:00 to 2:30 p. m. with Martin D. Doyle as practice teacher. Most of the students enrolled have taken printing in the Junior High grades and have elected it this time because of a strong interest in the work. From the following list, the above editor was elected and assistants selected who will be responsible for Senior High School News until further notice:

Tenth Grade Students:

Amundson	Ebert
Behling	Feldt
Buckley	Huber
Bunker	Keller
Larson	Swant
Jaeger	Trinko
Rowe	Winouske
Snyder	Young

Eleventh Grade Students.

JUNIOR HIGH CLASS

A lively group of Eighth Grade boys meet in the Print Shop from 2:30 to 3:30 each day with William A. Fisher as practice teacher. They are busy learning the case and sorting type in the cases this week. The way they are going after the work bids fair that they shall have an interesting and highly profitable twelve weeks course. The following is the class roll:

Baker, Alfred
Bundy, William
Bunker, George

Advice to Freshmen From Sophomore Girl

Any D. S. girl who wants to "do her bit" should teach coach Miller how to mend. Some football man will be grateful.

"It isn't a case of ladies first at Stout now, but it's men first."

"When in doubt mind your own business."

"The man who can't forget is quite as bad as the one who can't remember. Everyone should remember to forget."

Notice.

Suggestions for ideal quarters can be obtained in the lower northeast apartment of the Phi Sigma Psi House.

The Phi Sigma Psi girls regret that the illness of Mrs. Hahn prevented her from being with them this yr. However they consider themselves extremely fortunate in having Mrs. French as their preceptress.

Personal Items About The Student Body

We regret that Mrs. Hahn is unable to be with us in our work. Mrs. Hahn is at present confined to her home in Brodhead, Wis. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

The Industrial Arts department misses the presence of Mr. Buxton and wish him the best of success in his present undertaking in Indianapolis.

Miss Margaret Baker, a member of the faculty last year, is not to be with us the coming school year. The H. A. department will miss her very much.

Miss Gladys Jacobs of this city and a graduate of the N. A. G. U. of Indianapolis has been assigned to teaching High School gymnasium work at the Stout gym with Miss Alma Krueger, the director of the Girl's athletics. We wish Miss Jacobs the best of success in her new work.

Many new girls at the Annex, and all appear to be first-class Freshmen.

Isn't it queer how some of us, for instance "Tony," were so anxious to get back to Menomonie?

We sure miss the girls who are not back with us this year. Girls like "Dubby," Polly, Petie, Gert and Elda are noticeable by their absence.

The mother of Louise Hanscom from St. Cloud, Minn., came with Louise to arrange her room. After having performed this duty she returned home on Wednesday.

Jessie Birner, one of last years girls, has been ill since returning to Stout. We wish you a speedy recovery, "Jess."

If you don't think Miss Case is all O. K.—ask the Annex girls.

Four Year Gradnate Secures Good Position

A high honor was given Miss N. Beth Bailey of this city and the first graduate to receive the B. S. degree in the Household Arts school when she was offered a position at the University of Pittsburg, Pittsburg, Pa. Miss Bailey has accepted the position and is to be associate professor of Home Economics. Miss Bailey was in Menomonie last week on her way to her new field of work. She received many congratulations from her friends.

About Our Boys In Military Service

Sophomore students in both departments will be glad to hear from Warren A. Pease, '18, of Green Bay, Wis. Mr. Pease is now with Co. I, 3rd Batt. 13th Regiment, U. S. M. C., Quantico, Va. Pease writes that the "boot" training at Paris Island, S. C., lasted about six weeks with two weeks of range training. He was made sharpshooter at this place. At Quantico, the work is slightly more advanced than at Paris Island. He says in his letter:

"I want to say that the training at Stout is helping me a great deal. Old service men were given the preference at Paris Island, but I am now acting corporal of a rifle grenadier squad."

Charles Blair MacLean, '17, of Alexandria, S. D., is now with Ships Co. 4th Regiment, Camp Perry, Great Lakes, Illinois. MacLean has made application for entrance in the United States Naval Reserve Aerial Corps for commission. We hope "Mac" wins out. His dash and vigor should give him a good start and the diligent application which he showed as a student should serve him well.

From Our Alumni Out In the Field

Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Roehl were in Menomonie from Friday to Monday last week-end. Mr. Roehl is a 1909 graduate of Stout. Since his graduation he has been teaching farm mechanics in several institutions; among them the Dunn Co. School of Agriculture and a similar school at Wauwatosa in Milwaukee county. Mr. Roehl is the author of several well-known and recognized standard texts for teaching farm mechanics. Mr. Roehl is now working under Prof. G. A. Works, a former superintendent of Menomonie schools, at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. Mr. Roehl's work is teaching farm shop work in the department of Rural Engineering where he has been given a free hand to develop his program of mechanics for the farm boy.

Lieut. C. F. Mc Carthy Gives First Instructions

All the students of the Industrial Arts department assembled in room 26 Monday at 11:45 to hear Lieut. C. F. McCarthy. He gave a very interesting talk on the S. A. T. C.

Lieut. McCarthy told that there was a shortage of officers and when these 2,000,000 soldiers from the new draft get in the field it will take an immense number of officers. At the present there are about 359 of the schools who have charge of the training corps. He also told that a watchful eye will be kept on the most promising men, and they will be appointed to various offices. At the 15th of each month there will be a call for a number to be sent to an officers training camp.

A brief description was given about the course. The first call in the morning is at 5:45 (old time) and breakfast will be served in the mess hall at 6:30. Every night, Saturday and Sunday excepted, from 8:00 to 10:00 will be devoted to study, and at 10:00 the lights will be put out promptly. On Saturday at noon until Sunday night at 10:00 the men are off and those living in town or near by can be at home during this time but must be in before 10:00 on Sunday night.

The non-commissioned officers which Lieut. McCarthy will appoint are to wear chevrons the same as an officer in the regular army. Their orders must be obeyed but their salary is the same as that of a private.

The men are grouped under four heads: the first being that of officers, who will be sent to an officers training camp at request; the second is the non-commissioned officers, who will be sent to the non-commissioned officers training camp. The third group are the ones who haven't the ability for officers, and they will be placed in depot brigades. The fourth group are those who remain here and assist in the instructing and drilling.

Lieut. McCarthy says that he likes the faculty, the school and the town, so this goes to say that he will enjoy himself here in Menomonie. He said he would give everyone of the fellows a lift and do what he could to aid us in any way, so it is up to us, as teachers and students of the Stout Institute to give Lieut. McCarty hearty co-operation.

S. A. T. C. to be Ushered in With Patriotic Exercises

Next Tuesday, October 1, 1918, simultaneously in every institution in the United States which has an S. A. T. C. the student bodies and faculties will assemble for commemorative exercises for the opening of the Students Army Training Corps with 150,000 enrolled. The commanding officers will read the orders of the day from the Secretary of War. Speakers are scheduled to make patriotic speeches. The entire program will be of such nature as to stir up a rousing spirit of enthusiasm and start off the work of the S. A. T. C. with a impetus that will keep everyone awake and hustling during the year. The assembly at Stout will take place at 11:00 a. m. next Tuesday.

The Stoutonia is pleased to announce to its readers the arrival of three more officers who will assist in the training of the S. A. T. C. Second Lieut. George J. Wahl, Jr., arrived in Menomonie on Thursday and Second Lieut. R. P. Walridge with Second Lieut. Cedric Hale came this morning, Friday. Lieut. Walridge was carried to Menomonie, Mich. by mistake or he would have arrived yesterday. It is rumored that another Second Lieutenant may be expected to assist in the line work.

Directors' Committee Meets in Milwaukee

Last Friday and Saturday, the Course of Study Committee of the State Vocational Directors met in Milwaukee for further work on the state courses of study which were started by the committee when they were here in Menomonie during the summer session. Mr. Fred L. Curran, vocational director in Menomonie, attended this meeting and reported a profitable session. Ten members of the committee met in the club room of the Plankinton hotel at 9 a. m., Friday morning with State Vocational Director Mr. J. Callahan, and the three regional directors, Messrs. W. F. Faulkes, E. E. Gunn, and Graham. Three sessions of the committee were held on Friday and the results of its work was put into the hands of the executive committee which worked on the material on Saturday.

The courses are now in the hands of several directors who will have them mimeographed and then distributed in the next few weeks to the other directors who may use such of them as they can to prove their worth for their work.

Mr. Curran spent Saturday visiting the Milwaukee Continuation schools. He has the highest praise for that institution and its perfect organization. There are two buildings in which 9,000 students are accommodated each week. The work is "mighty live stuff" as Mr. Curran put it, and the system of operation most commendable. There is an excellent spirit among the students taking the work.

Miss Blanche Doty is teaching sewing and Miss Tonigan has charge of all the cooking work. Both of these instructors are two-year graduates of the Household Arts school and are to be remembered as excellent students when they were with us.

Opportunity for More In the S. A. T. C.

Students who have friends in the draft have been informed by Lieut. McCarthy that they may write these friends urging them to enter the S. A. T. C. if they have not yet been called for a specific date or place. Entrance in the S. A. T. C. we understand takes precedence over other forms of induction into the service. These persons should obtain their Order number and Serial number and send them to Lieut. McCarthy together with the address of their local board. Lieut. McCarthy will return a special form to the local board of the individual and he may enter here at Stout at once. Fellows, write your friends about this.

Football Season Opens; An Excellent Outlook

Prospects for a winning football team for Stout were never better than at present. With Stout officially designated one of the S. A. T. C. colleges, athletics will be emphasized even more than in the past. Were we to receive no more men than are now enrolled, Stout would be able to put a creditable team on the field, but with an increased attendance of double and even triple the number now on hand expected, hopes for a formidable scoring machine loom high. Lieut. McCarthy commanding officer of the corps, is an enthusiastic believer in athletics and has already started to teach the line men tricks of the game he learned on the gridiron while a player at Georgetown University. Coach Miller has been busy getting his squad of sixteen men in the best possible physical shape and has had the men go through some strenuous sessions of tackling, charging and passing the ball.

Physical Examinations Early This Week

Monday evening at 7:00 P. M. fifteen men from Lynwood Hall, under the command of Mr. Biddick, marched to Dr. Steves' office for their physical examination.

The men were examined in alphabetical order. According to the reports of the fellows examined it is understood that they were subjected to a very rigid test. The men were all passed with the exception of Mr. Goard and Mr. Kroll. During the period of examination the fellows waiting their turn were debating as to whether they would be packing their grips on the following day.

The examination was continued on Tuesday and three more men were disqualified Mr. Fisher, Mr. Roswell, and Mr. Coaker.

Personal Items About The Student Body

H. Kroll has been visiting Rusk the week end. Any female attraction? I wonder? He states as having a most glorious time.

Mr. Reppert, our advertising manager left for his home, Friday evening to aid his father in bringing about the sale of their farm. Since Mr. Reppert enlisted in the S. A. T. C. his father is unable to care for the farm alone.

Glimmerings from Lynwood Barracks

We wonder why Garnett faded away in the doorway the other night.

Found: The ice box at Lynwood by the hungry quartette.

Wanted: Something to wake me up — Rege.

Wanted: Hours at Lynwood — Karberg.

Johnson: "Say ——— when your wife dies remember that my dad sells monuments."

Ham: "Somebody put me on a bum track."

Johnson: "Why don't you lay new rails?"

Ham: "Shut up or I'll knock you clean out of your shoes."

Kading: "Say fellows I've got a date with a girl but I forgot her name, can I find it in the Atlas?"

Are the lights lit at Lynwood nights? Ask Steinke?

STOUT SOPHOMORE CLASS.

The work at sorting the type cases has progressed well during the past week. Practically all the cases on top of the racks have been sorted and some type put back in them. This gives us plenty of eight and ten point cases for composition on the Stoutonia.

Two sets of old rollers have been boxed for return to be recast. These are for the Hartford press and when the new ones come back we shall be fully prepared with rollers until the coldest weather sets in.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL

Football practice was started last Wednesday with Mr. Bungey as coach. George Decker was elected captain by a unanimous vote. The team made fine selection when they chose him for a leader for if anyone can lead the maroon warriors "over the top" it is "Deck." So far about 20 men have been out in the field. They are the following:

JUNIOR HIGH CLASS

William H. Bundy Editor
Oliver King Assistant Editor

A most peculiar honor roll of names is offered this week. The temptation of an open window, a passing student on the walk below, and a bit of type in the workers' hands proved too much for the members of this shop class. As a result, type was noted on the walks below the print shop windows. The teachers in charge laid in wait and when one of the class bombarded the enemy below, the offender was promptly taken prisoner and with another guilty comrade a clean-up in the grass and walks below the print shop resulted in two large handfuls of type being recovered from the spoils of boyish warfare. When Mr. Eslinger confronted the class the following honor roll of volunteers in the service was discovered:

Baker, Alfred
Bundy, William
Bunker, George
Husby, John
Husby, Clarence
King, Oliver
Kolkind, Herbert
Lichman, Herman
Saltness, Walter
Schultz, Frederick

Mr. Eslinger compelled the writing of this statement which is a confession of our guilt and a promise to the world that for further warfare we shall use more licensed missiles. We have agreed to do our bit to win the war by conserving type metal.

Some Gossip From Tainter Dormitories

Jessie Birmer is up and around again after a week's illness.

The north side of the Annex sure did enjoy that serenade Wednesday night. The bugle call was most thrilling to those who were deep in the realms of slumber. Come again fellows!

A house meeting was held at Tainter Annex Thursday evening to elect their self government board. Miss Antoinette Turner was elected house president. Three proctors were elected, one for each floor — Della Lerdall, first floor; Alda Allen, second floor, and Jessie Mathews, third floor.

About Our Boys In Military Service

Anken S. Graven, '12 whose home is Menomonie, is now a carpenter in the U. S. N. R. F. Mr. Graven is stationed at the U. S. N. R. F. Mr. Graven is stationed at the U. S. Naval Training Camp at Detroit, Michigan. In a recent letter he writes as follows:

"The camp here is being run in connection with the Ford Ship-building plant. It is not as yet completed but it soon will be. I have had charge of the Government contract work and have enjoyed it, only it is rather hard to have to stay here. I have applied for admission to the line schools so that I would receive sea duty, but somehow they won't let me out of this construction work. We have a complement here at this station of approximately 900 men including 150 Italian sailors who will take out several of these destroyers when they are completed."

"Bumps" Graven as we knew him so well has been specializing in drafting and engineering since his graduation here in 1912. He has attended the University of Illinois and worked at construc-

S. A. T. C. Ushered in at Stout October First

At the same moment all over the United States the Students Army Training Corps was started Oct. 1. At Stout this was at 11 a. m., and the exercises were held in the auditorium with the entire student body present.

Lieutenant McCarthy was in charge of the program, and started out by explaining the idea of the Corps, and the work ahead of it. After a number of general orders had been read, the oath to the flag was repeated by the entire audience standing at attention.

President Harvey then delivered an address. He pointed out the difference between the term "boys" that is usually applied to soldiers, and the term "men," which hereafter any member of the unit should be pleased to apply to himself. Mr. Harvey explained very clearly the purpose of the government in providing for such an organization as the S. A. T. C., and impressed upon the minds of the men their duties toward the school and their government for the hitherto unheard of opportunities afforded them. The speaker ended his address by reciting the "toast to the flag" by John Daly. This toast appears elsewhere in the issue.

The exercises were closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by all present.

Mr. Valentine a member of the Sophomore class has accepted a good position as Manual Training instructor at the Kenosha high school. Since he registered June 5, 1917 he was put in a later draft on account of dependants and he has deemed it wise to take up teaching since there are so many positions open. The class members as well as the faculty will miss him during the year but all wish him the very best of success.

TOAST TO THE FLAG

By John Daly

"Here's to the red of it,
There's not a thread of it,
No, not a shread of it,
In all the spread of it,
From foot to head,
But heroes bled for it,
Faced steel and lead for it,
Precious blood shed for it,
Bathing in Red.

Here's to the white of it;
Thrilled by the sight of it,
Who knows the right of it
But has felt the might of it
Through day and night;
Womanhood's care for it,
Made manhood dare for it,
Purity's prayer for it,
Keep it so white.

"Here's to the blue of it,
Heavenly view of it,
Star-Spangled hue of it,
Honesty's due of it,
Constant and true;
Here's to the whole of it,
Stars, stripes and pole of it,
Here's to the soul of it,
Red, white, and blue."

J. V. Lynn in Iowa As State Supervisor

Mr. J. V. Lynn who was graduated from the Industrial Arts Department last June with the degree of B. S. in Industrial Arts has been appointed as Supervisor of Vocational Education of Trades and Industries for the State of Iowa by Mr. A. M. Deyoe, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Des Moines Register printed the following item about Mr. Lynn's work:

"Mr. Lynn will immediately take up the work of organizing evening schools for the training of drafted men in war work in all the towns where there is a demand for such schools and where

Joint Mixer Saturday at Riverside Park

"Haven't we been having just ideal weather, though?"
"Wonderful, I think."

"It sure is good picnic weather, I wonder why they don't have one here before it gets too cold."

"They did have one here Saturday, didn't you go?"

"No, I was out of town."

"Well, you certainly missed the time of your life, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. gave a joint mixer Saturday and I never saw one so well attended or enjoyed by every one as it was. It started at 3:30 p. m. and everybody did well, they were most all there by that time, especially the boys. It was one time that the girls weren't in a majority and I think that was one reason that everybody had such a good time. They played games until about 5:15 and then the boys were auctioned off, the girls doing the buying and the fellow they bought was their partner for supper. Mr. Eslinger was the auctioneer and he certainly got some high prices for some of those fellows. One girl had to bid three picnic trips and a feed for two on each one of them to get the fellow she wanted. He certainly is some lucky guy; I almost wish I was in his shoes. After supper they had a good old community sing and it surely was enjoyed by all. There was one song that four girls sang about Wednesday Sou—p; did you ever hear it?"

"No, I don't believe I did."

"Well I will try and sing it for you one of these days."

"After the sing, the crowd all went up to the Stout Gym for a dance, and really I never saw such a jolly good crowd, everybody mixed just fine and I think all the fellows showed the girls just what a real mixer was. The crowd broke up about 10:45 p. m. and it was as I heard some one say, 'The End of a Perfect Day!'"

Commercial Club Extends Privileges

At a regular meeting of the Menomonie Commercial Club last month, the Club voted to extend its privileges to the officers and members of the S. A. T. C. of Stout in uniform. As soon as the fellows get their uniforms they may feel free to enter the Club rooms and make use of the facilities found in them just as any member would do. This includes free access to the reading room and card room where an excellent array of current magazines may be found and plenty of easy chairs to lounge in while the student may wish to read. Besides the cards, chess and checkers are available. The club members pay a nominal charge per hour for use of the pool and billiard tables and the same would be expected of others who use this equipment.

The offer of the Commercial Club is a generous one and should be appreciated by all the members of the S. A. T. C. We know that those who use the Club rooms will use them with the same care that the Club members use them and that all will take equal comfort in them. The hours of the S. A. T. C. will not permit of many hours off for recreation, but Fridays and Saturdays some time may be found and pleasant hours spent by the fellows in the rooms. A good piano is available and groups of the men who enjoy singing should take pleasure in using it.

We know that the boys in khaki will accept the generous offer of the Commercial Club and show their appreciation by a thoughtful use of the facilities whenever they have the time.

buildings and equipment. The facilities are offered in the way of branches that will be offered for registrants include auto engineering, radio buzzer work, general mechanics, and other branches that will fit the men to take up these lines in the army.

"The expense of maintaining these schools is defrayed in part by the federal government under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act."

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn wish them much success in their new field of work. We know Mr. Lynn to be fully competent for the position he now holds. Before coming to the Stout Institute he was Supervisor of the Manual Arts Department of the public schools of Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Inspecting Officer Gives His Approval

Lieut. Vandervoort of Ann Arbor, Mich., inspected the arrangements for the S. A. T. C. which Stout Institute has been making the past two weeks. He was well satisfied with everything pertaining to his official inspection for the War department. The program arrangements and schedule of classes he found very complete and filled with the kind of work the army desires its men to have. He spoke well of the quarters which have been fitted for the men at Lynwood, and of the appointments for the mess hall to accommodate the men. Lieut. Vandervoort was very much pleased and surprised with the completeness of the equipment which the Stout Institute can offer in the training of men in so many lines of mechanical work.

Some Gossip From Tainter Dormitories

As per usual the Freshmen girls are getting the first dates. You should hear some of the buzz:

"What are you going to wear?"
"Did you get a bid?"
"Who are you going with?"
"Is he a good dancer?"
"What does he look like, I can't seem to place him?"

Those and many more from the Freshmen. The Sophomores are past those silly days.

"Say fellows, have you seen the Annex twins? When you get a date with one, be sure you're getting the right one, because you can't tell them apart."

Word has been received from "Fish" Herring, '18, at the Annex. He says he is fine and dandy and likes the service he is in. He writes that the thrill one gets when diving 150 feet below the surface of the water is not easily forgotten. His chosen branch is the submarine chaser division.

Miss Kugel makes the announcement that all practice teachers of sections A & B Sophomores should leave their 11:30 period open for consultation with their Critics. Practice teaching conferences must take precedence over all other meetings at 11:30, except on assembly days.

At ten A. M. Tuesdays weekly it is made known that observation classes will be had for practice teachers.

Mr. Leonard Halverson, member of the '18 special class, who has been teaching at Rice Lake for the past two weeks, was in Menomonie, Sunday P. M. He is going to quit his school and attend the "U" with a number of his old friends of Stanley. He says he likes his job just fine but would prefer army life.

Military drill has been started in our High School this year. Every afternoon from 3:15 to 4:15 the boys of the Senior High School report at Co. H. Armory for drill. So far about seventy fellows have reported for drill. After reporting the, Company is divided into two platoons. The first platoon consists of the first five squads, while the remainder of the fellows make up the second platoon. Mr. Waite, Mr. Lind and other men who belong to the Home Guard are the commanding officers. A week ago last Wednesday both platoons were drilled by Sergeant W. Gould Mathews of the United States Marines.

At present we are without guns or uniforms, but these will be obtained as soon as possible.

A Senior Class meeting was held Tuesday Sept. 24, to elect officers for the coming year. The following officers were elected: President, Gerhardt Rowe; Vice-President, Louise Gerhan; Secretary and Treasurer, George Decker. Miss Isley was elected Class Standby.

A Junior Class meeting was held a week ago last Thursday. The officers elected were: President Herman Schneider, Vice President, Loda Wolfgram; Secretary and Treasurer, Anna Arntsou. Miss Cooper was elected Class Staudby.

good time came Sunday morning when these three young men made an appearance at the Stout Gym about nine o'clock. Waiting for them were Mr. Mop, Miss Stick, and Old Man Bucket of Water. After about three quarters of an hour getting the floor in shape with the broom and other preparation materials for such a time. Mr. Mop, Miss Stick, and Old Man Water were given their chance to demonstrate their ability at cleaning "Mr. Wax" off of the floor.

When the entertainment was at its height, three young ladies made their appearance in the room, and when it was learned that some of the audience had not had breakfast they promptly proceeded to get these gentlemen something to eat. After about five minutes they appeared with some ice cream cones which were served between "mops", and were enjoyed by all.

THE LYNWOOD PEST

There is a guy in our hall
 Who blows morning, noon, and night
 Upon a cornet old and worn
 With all his strength and might.

He cares not whether he disturbs
 My thoughts or my repose
 It matters not at all to him;
 On with his blast he goes.

When on a certain special theme
 I try to concentrate
 I hear his playing, which at best
 Does surely irritate.

Or when I want to drop to sleep
 I hear the timely blare
 As through the medium of his horn
 He scatters that musical air.

They say the devil is a curse
 To creatures great and small But Nick's got nothing on the guy
 That toots in Lynwood hall.

Glimmerings From Lynwood Barracks

Kitchen Duty is very popular among the boys, it comprises setting tables, acting as waiters and picking up the dishes. Nine boys at a time are on Kitchen Duty, two to each of the four tables and one to give orders and see that they are carried out.

Shorty Becklund is one of our most popular police in the Barracks, he sure is some hustler.

Kroll, who was on the sick list is quickly recovering, which all the boys are glad to know.

From seven-thirty to nine-thirty every evening the boys show their ambitious attitude toward their studying.

French is becoming very popular with the boys, at least from the way it is spoken around the Barracks.

The Mixer and Dance last Saturday afternoon and evening took well with the boys, we are all waiting the time for the next one.

Johnson: "Say Ham do you think you'll ever amount to much?"

Ham: "Not if I keep in your company."

At the doctor's office waiting to be examined.

Karberg: "Gosh what will I do he asks me to stand on one foot, if I can't do it."

Steinke: "I can stand on one half of one of mine and still have some to spare."

Talking about Goiteres

Hedlund: I have one but it is inside and can't be seen.

Following the order given out by Lieutenant McCarthy in regard to draft numbers and questionnaires, Mr. Jarvis has been designated to assist those in doubt about some point in their questionnaire on which they may be troubled. All students in doubt should see Mr. Jarvis at once.

New Program For S. A. T. C. In Operation

A subsequent order from the War department has made it necessary to revise the entire program of classes of the Industrial Arts department, from the original schedule. The order was to the effect that twenty year old men would be called elsewhere at the end of the first quarter; nineteen year old men would go out; while the eighteen year old fellows might expect to be here until the end of the school year. In view of this condition it was suggested that the most essential courses be given the older men this first quarter.

The whole new program has been built up with the idea of giving to each group the immediate essential subjects that will better fit the student for service in the mechanical fields of the army or for a try at the Officers' Training camp. Men twenty years old are taking in the new schedule, auto work, machine shop, mathematics, machine drawing and mapping, war aims, and French.

The shop and academic work will be over at 2:30 p. m. each day and military drill will occupy this time until 4:30. After 4:30 the fellows will have a recreational hour for athletics and organized games.

The new schedule makes one shift which is regrettable but which was necessary under the circumstances; that is, the discontinuing of the 5th and 6th grade practice classes. This only effects these two grades and is temporary because of the lack of practice teachers, at that hour. Rather than cut in the other practice classes, the regular Stout shop instructors will teach the high school classes and Mr. Snively and Mr. Fisher will also handle classes in the high school shop program.

Everyone should keep in mind that this is an emergency schedule and made up to give the best results for the S. A. T. C. The boys in the grades will miss their industrial work we know, but we are calling on them now to be patient and cheerful in the matter and help us to help others to help win the war.

Social Affairs Planned When Epidemic Is Over

The epidemic of Spanish influenza has been the cause for clamping the lid very tightly over every function that brings groups of people together. When conditions permit and a reopening of the social calendar is warranted, there is plenty planned for Stout students.

At a recent faculty meeting, the matter of entertainment for the S. A. T. C. was under discussion. It was planned to make use of the recreation rooms on the second and third floors of the Gym and with the present facilities of the Y. W. and Y. M. keep an open house for the fellows and girls during their hours off after school. The plan would work out similar to the Y. W. Hostess houses at the camps. The faculty are willing to take charge at scheduled times and with assistants to entertain informally as their turn would come.

It was suggested that to make the entire scheme successful the help of the faculty and others working with the Y's would be much better. The local organizations, such as Women's club, Sisters and Mothers of Co. H, Red Cross and Commercial club are all anxious to help in the entertaining of our boys in khaki.

An executive committee consisting of Miss L. O'Neale and Mr. R. H. Rodgers, was appointed by Dr. Harvey to further consider the whole matter. This committee will enlarge itself and call on others to work on sub-committees.

Dormitory Girls Have Big Frolic

One of the most important social functions of the season was the fancy dress ball which was given at Tainter Annex on the evening of October 12th. The guests were received by Miss Case and promptly at 8:30 marched down the stairway of the large rotunda to the strains of "On Wisconsin." The evening was spent in dancing after which a buffet supper was served. The costumes were varied and vied with each other in originality.

There were many notable personages present, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Pumphandle, who were passing through the city on their honeymoon, Count and Countess Zip, Zip, Zip; Count and Countess Dill Pickle, Count and Countess de Nutt and Messrs. and Mesdames Doolittle, Sit-em-out, Petey Dink, Silly Willy, Tony Bawinski, Jack the Hugger, Van Balloon, Wm. de Hell, Chew-em-up, Tuffy McNutt, Victor Victrola, Bologna, Andy Gump, Jack Crobar, Fatty Arbuckle, Felix Dingbat, also Gum Shoe Liz and the Widow Emptyhead. The harmonious relationship of the allies was evinced by the presence of Messrs. and Mesdames John Bull, Tommy Atkins and Johnny Canuck, and their friendly response to the cordial reception given them by their American friends. The guests all declared this to be the most enjoyable event of the year.

Drill is progressing nicely these days under the direction of Lieut. Walldridge. Up to this week, the work has been confined mainly to the school of the soldier, i. e., the facings, the salute, and simple marching. The men are now learning the squad movements, and taking distance, and interval and other formations.

Interesting Letter From George P. True

The Stoutonia prints with much pleasure the following letter from George P. True, '18. Besides the regular two year course, Mr. True took work during the last Summer Session which was in part more specific preparation for his position at Fort Dodge and in past work which applied toward the Bachelor's degree. The letter printed below was addressed to Mr. Jarvis but is of considerable interest to all who knew Mr. True. The Mr. Snively referred to by Mr. True in his letter is Mr. Edward T. Snively, director of the manual arts work at Fort Dodge. Mr. Snively was graduated from Stout in ..... He is a brother of Harvey K. Snively of this city, who is taking work for the Bachelor's degree at the present time.

"115 North 12 St., Fort Dodge, Ia., Monday, Sept. 30, 1918.

"I thought I would write you a few lines and let you know how my school teaching career, thus far, is progressing.

"I am very nicely located here now, and like the work just fine, especially the metal end of it. Just briefly I might tell you of my duties.

"I have two ninth grade classes in joinery and woodworking, one tenth grade class in cabinet making and wood turning (a combined course) then the eleventh grade in forging, besides on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays I have a grade class from 3 to 4:15, then on Wednesdays and Fridays from 3 o'clock on I am free. I also have one vacant period in the a. m. So you see I am not over-worked.

"I have a dandy shop, consisting of 20 benches, planer, combination rip and cross-cut saw, and jointer, besides a tool room and lumber rack. The shop is ideal, and both Mr. Minkel and Mr. Snively, are sure fine fellows to work with, and, under.

"In regard to the forging, the shop is equipped with 14 Buffalo type, down draft forges, with the exhaust and fan at a convenient place for operation. I have 14 students in forging, two of them taking the advanced course, and although they have had some forging, there are still some things I can tell them.

"Really, some of them are giants compared to myself, but they are there to learn, so there is absolutely no trouble with discipline. I have held them down to good, accurate work, emphasizing the use of the tongs and hammer, and fire, very strongly. We have not started welding as yet, but they have made the following exercises: drawing ex. from round to square, double-eye bend, coat hook, gate hook, wall pike, hammock hook, a cleviss and pin, and now they are starting on the grab hook. There are lots of problems I must substitute, as it is an 18 weeks course. Mr. Snively has left that all to me. Notebooks are due in next Friday. I am having them follow about the same general plan as you used.

"I have completed one month of professional teaching and like it better every day, and I know I will make good, because with the training a person gets at Stout, it can not be any other way.

"I give all of my classes vocational talks regularly every two weeks.

"Well, Mr. Jarvis, this is more than a mere note, and I must ring off for now. Give my best regards to all the faculty, and Dr. Harvey, and wishing you the best of success and luck, and wishing Stout Institute the same, I remain, Your student friend, Geo. P. True, 115 North 12th St., Ft. Dodge, Ia."

A Letter From Miss Elizabeth Walker

In a letter to the Stoutonia Miss Elizabeth Walker, '14, of Mineral Point writes that she planned to subscribe for the Stoutonia but waited until she was sure where she would be teaching. Miss Walker writes from Montpelier, Ind., where she is teaching a combination of domestic science and mathematics. She returns to the same situation she held last year at an increase in salary.

The Indiana state law requires schools to give manual training. Miss Walker has previously taught woodworking and drawing and says she might have to teach shopwork in Montpelier when their present teacher is called in the draft. This is a good example of what Stout graduates can do when called upon in emergencies. A broad, general training after the regular two years of normal training is fitting them for better and more responsible positions. The work of the third and fourth year leading to the Bachelor of Science degree is giving such training. Miss Walker has already started such additional preparation by attending summer sessions at the University at Madison before the new work of the third and fourth year at Stout was started.

Activities of the Stout Y. W. C. A.

The Recognition Services which were to be held last Sunday at the Congregational church have been postponed until further notice.

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was in the Stout Auditorium Wednesday afternoon. It was a Lake Geneva meeting and you had to be there to appreciate the splendid sketch that the Geneva delegates gave of their week at Geneva this summer. The next meeting October 30, which will be held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms again, is on "Table-talk." It will be conducted by the Social committee. Everybody come! Maybe you'll hear some of your tabletalk dramatized.

OLE J. ANSHUS

Courtesy of Dunn County News

We are able to print here through the courtesy of the Dunn County News, the picture of Ole J. Anshus, who recently gave his life for his country at Great Lakes, where he was stricken with pneumonia following an attack of Spanish influenza.

Ole was well known to Stout students for several years. He played in the band with the fellows and helped them out when they needed a tune at the games.

Last year Mr. Anshus was regularly seen in company with Miss Mary Sehring, a Sophomore, and toward the close of the year their engagement was announced. The young couple were the life and spirit of a group who always were found together.

The Stoutonia extends to the Anshus family and to Miss Sehring its sympathies and solicitations at their loss.

William A. Fisher, who was at first rejected from S. A. T. C. because of physical disqualifications has now been accepted for limited service and is with the other fellows at the barracks. "Bill" was some happy boy when he moved in and the fellows were quite as glad to have him with them as he was to join them.

Mr. R. H. Rodgers is confined to his home this week with an attack of the grip.

S. A. T. C. Subscribes With Great Enthusiasm

Monday evening at mess, Lieut. McCarthy gave a talk on the Fourth Liberty Loan. The government allows an enlisted man to purchase a bond with monthly payments of one-tenth of the value of the bond, payments being made thru the War Department. After explaining the system of buying a bond the Lieutenant gave the men an opportunity to sign up for any amount they desired.

In the rush that followed Lieutenants McCarthy and Waldrige were nearly stampeded by the men crowding around to sign up for a bond. About seventy-five per cent of the men subscribed for bonds, the total value of which was over $4400.

Celebrate for the Reported Armistice

A Day Of Days in World's History

Whole Town Turns Out on Streets To View the Big Parade— Business at a Standstill

First the fire bell rang with a regularity that failed to reveal the location of the fire and then the big whistle of the milk condensary started to blow a continuous blast. Consternation ran high and all wondered whether the condensary was on fire. But soon the bell of the Central school began to ring and kept at it. Then students, teachers, business men and people down town knew that something else was the cause.

"Maybe it's for peace," is what was on the lips of most individuals meaning of course the armistice with Germany. The three gongs called the high school pupils back to the assembly room but they did not stay inside very long.

Church bells took up the chorus, the fire truck with large American flags flying in the wind, started up and down the streets and over the whole town to tell the people of a great event. The big clock bell in the famous tower of the Industrial Arts building could not keep still. It had long been silent, in fact so long that hardly any of the present Stout students had ever heard it. Mr. Thorsen put six men in the tower to work the hammer and strike the bell but who cared for that.

By 1:30 nearly everybody was on the streets. A fervor of excitement was in the air, and people just hopped up and down and laughed and cried in turns. The high school had started to parade, when the S. A. T. C. got in formation, and with their big band to play the liveliest tunes they started in line. The high school took a place after the S. A. T. C. and for two hours in a nasty rain they marched up and down the streets. Business men closed their stores, the banks and postoffice likewise, and soon those not in the parade were on the sidewalk watching it and talking in a most excited manner.

Bells and whistles kept ringing but the drenching rain and danger of taking colds made the better judgment of the populace decide to quit the parade. After supper a similar formation was again on the streets, guns and revolvers were firing off resounding shots along the line. Hours were extended for the students and they eagerly took advantage of them. After the big bonfire, the girls went to Lynwood barracks and serenaded the fellows. Poor S. A. T. C. under orders. And very indiscreet girls but who will criticize them because it was the celebration of a life time and one momentous in the history of the world, even though it may have been a bit premature.

A Saturday At The Barracks

As all the fellows realize Saturday is the big day at the Barracks. But it happened that Saturday, Oct. 26, was just a little bigger than all the rest. It happened like this: As usual on Saturday Inspection started at 8:30. For some reason or other the fellows didn't get all the dirt in their room and naturally the officers found it. They took the names of the fellows who weren't prepared and the further they got in the inspection the more names they got, naturally. When they finished there was only fifty-seven names on the list. This part wasn't so exciting because the fellows had gone through that before, but after — — A list of the names of all of these fellows was put up on the bulletin board and up at the head of the list was an order which read something like this: "All men whose names are below will remain in the Barracks or in the immediate vicinity and will be prepared for roll call at any moment." About five minutes after this list was put before these young men's eyes, you could see about fifty fellows with a face about a mile long and a muttering of: "And I had two dates for today."

It looked a whole lot like the evening would be a dead one but necessity is the mother of invention they say, so the fellows just had to find something to do. It was decided that a club should be immediately organized to promote the feeling of good fellowship and brotherhood among the fellows. As in all clubs, they have to have a name and the taking in of new members for a start. It was decided to call the club "The Funnel Gang." It isn't just what the name suggests because the fellows are strictly temperate, but the reason it was called this is that a new member has to become very closely associated with a funnel. A room was chosen in the basement for the initiation, old members gathered very solemnly around the room and the new members were introduced one by one. When the new member came in, the purpose of the organization was immediately made known, then they were told that to become a member it was necessary to pay a certain amount of dues, but as some of the fellows would have a little difficulty in paying them, they all got a chance to get out of paying them. The proposition was this, if when a funnel was placed in the front of their trousers, with the spout of same inside of the trousers, and if they could drop a penny into the

Now What Are We Going To Do?

The first thing we should do is to thank God for what promises without doubt to be the ending of the war and a planning of a lasting peace.

The second thing we should do is to subscribe just as liberally to the United War Work campaign of the seven organizations which are to open a drive on Monday, Nov. 11. We must remember the words of Miss Scott when she told us last week that during the period of reconstruction after the war there would be a greater need for the social relief work which the Y. W. C. A. is doing.

The third thing we should do is to secure a new view point. Not a viewpoint that says: "Well, the war is over now, and we can have a good time," but a viewpoint that says: "If I can not serve in the army or do Red Cross work, I will prepare myself for service in other directions. This is particularly true of the S. A. T. C. We probably will not get to France, and in many cases not to the cantonments. But we are in school at the expense of the government and we are receiving a training that will mean much to us in later life. Let us put in the best we have to gain a good record and preparation for industrial work.

The girls in dressmaking classes are getting words confused these days. In discussing shoulder seams most of them say "my soldier seems."

United War Work Campaign Starts Monday

A meeting of the executive committee for the United War Work campaign was held in Miss Kugel's office on Wednesday evening. Mr. Curran (who took charge of the meeting) representative of the Industrial Arts faculty, Miss Kugel, representative of the H. A. faculty, Wm. Fisher, representative of the Y. M. C. A. and of the S. A. T. C., Dan Blide, representative of the Catholic students of the S. A. T. C., Alice Morse, representative for the Y. W. C. A. students, and Eleanor Reinardy, representative for the Catholic girl students, were present.

Business was considered under three items, the matter of speakers, publicity of reading material, posters, etc., and the preparation of the lists of students and faculty. It was decided upon to have a mass meeting in the near future, at which an out-of-town speaker and several local speakers will talk to us about this drive.

The campaign is to take place during the week of November 11 to 18. Here's your chance to show your true patriotic spirit. Are you with us?

S. A. T. C. Limber Up Sunday Afternoon

Sunday afternoon, the weather being a little bad for dates, a basket ball game was held in the gym. This served to loosen up the boys' joints as most of them had been in confinement Saturday and Saturday night and were unable to go out Sunday on account of rain.

The S. A. T. C. has some pretty good basket ball material, nearly all of the fellows having played on High school teams and many of them are stars. They hope to get a chance for a game.

They are all glad that Mr. Miller opened the gym, as an enjoyable afternoon was passed. The outlook otherwise would have been pretty dismal.

Do you know the two-story man?

Girl's Glee Club Gets Good Start

The Girls' Glee club of the Stout Institute is well launched on a program of work under the competent leadership of Miss Glickerson, who had the training of the club last season. At present hearty enthusiasm and cooperation is expressed by the fifty-two members enrolled. Shortly after Christmas, the Glee club plans to give an operetta.

The present officers are:

President .....	Ruth Thorsen
Secretary .....	Gladys Dunn
Treasurer .....	Elsie Lampe
Librarian .....	Alice Morse
Accompanist....	Bernice Blanchette

Advanced English Classes Are Enjoying Literature

The three sections of sophomore girls who are taking the Reading Course scheduled for one meeting each week, have already evinced their many and varied interests in the field of literature by the reading of poetry, essays, biographies, short stories, novels and histories. During the first period of six weeks each girl has arranged two or three books.

The class in Junior Literature has just completed an intensive study of the essay. As a summary each member of the class wrote an essay on the value of the essay study. Poetry is now the new study.

What takes the joy out of life?
To loose week-end privileges;
To be on B. P. on Saturday;
To be on K. P. at any time;
To try and join the "Funnel Club" and be disappointed, (or surprised, which is it?)

To hear revillie every morning at six a. m.;

To have a date and have to stay in Saturday. (For particulars see any of fifty-seven fellows);

To stay in Friday night and clean up the room and have the Inspecting Officers tell you your room is "Absolutely Rotten," at Inspection Saturday morning.

Happenings With The Army Bunch

Overcoats have been issued to all members of the S. A. T. C. Many of them have been slightly worn, but nevertheless they have proven their worth during the past few days. Since these coats were not made to measure some of them have peculiar tendencies, but up one side and down the other they are very satisfactory. Here's hoping that the uniforms, which are expected soon will prove to be as satisfactory as the coats.

The office of the Commanding Officer has been moved from the Industrial Arts building to the H. A. building. In their new quarters they have a great deal more room and light. There is a table for each officer and this will better enable them to do their work. The new office is about three times as large as the offices in the Industrial Arts building, and give very commodious quarters to the lieutenants.

Last Thursday night from 6:30 to 7:30 the "Army Bunch" was invited over to the Stout auditorium to sing camp songs. They sang all of the familiar songs and then the Lieutenants taught us a new one called "Oh, The Army."

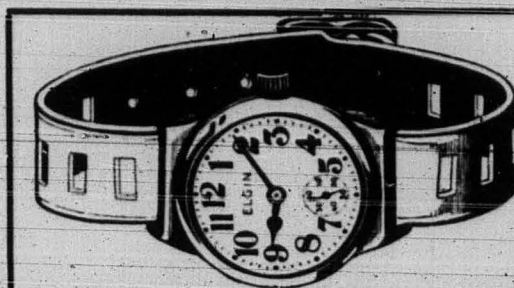

Lieutenant McCarthy led the singing while Brown at the piano and Osburn with the cornet were doing their best to keep in harmony.

Someone said Lieutenant Waldrige had a "golden voice." Are you sure he didn't have a cold to make it "golden?"

But what did they say about Lieutenants Wahl's and Hale's voice? "Some voice!"

Lieutenant McCarthy picked a very good double quartette who entertained the bunch. A good duet entitled "the Red Shirt," was given by Privates Ninnis and Baker. The boys had the pleasure of hearing Privates Zittleman and Borm in the musical hit entitled, "The Railroad Rag."

Stout Athletics at The Present Time

The athletic world has begun to wonder about what has happened to Stout Institute. The institute as far as a football team is concerned is as good as dead this year. If the lid had not been down on football, Stout would have had the best team in years. In the game against the High School, the quality of some of the new men was shown. J. Johnson the 175 pound baby elephant, Becklund, Henke, and Kurti would be a fine foundation for a team.

Even if football has been dropped, other forms of recreation just as strenuous have been adopted by the school. Two days a week every man has gym work and two hours drill every day, on top of which enforced recreation is pulled off under the direction of the officers.

Stout is the place where all the extra weight that we put on at the mess table is made into hard muscle at other hours of the day. It is the place where the fellows wake up in the morning with stiff bodies, that can't be helped for we're in the army now.

At a recent meeting of the Y. W. C. A. the association voted to offer to the school for the student recreation rooms which are planned to be opened very soon, the use of the association's piano, now in the club room on the second floor of the gym, and also the furnishings, consisting of couches, reed chairs, curtains and tables in the Y. W. social room on the third floor of the gym.

funnel by letting it slide off the forehead, while the hands were behind the back, they were exempt from paying the dues. They were also told that they had three trials to get the penny in. As to the results, it was like this, when the man had the funnel in place and was putting the penny on his forehead, two glasses of cold water was poured into the funnel, thus they became members of "The Funnel Gang." About twelve members were initiated.

About seven men entered Saturday evening and nearly as many were admitted Sunday afternoon. Privates Bloomquist, Baker and Ninnis furnished the entertainment which was very much appreciated by the rest of the club. Of course the preference went to Private Bloomquist who rendered several well applauded selections.

The following rules are to be passed upon at the next meeting:

1. No member will be allowed to call on more than one girl at a time or walk over six miles to call on same.

2. The right arm of every member must be developed to the highest degree.

3. No individual secrets will be kept. All must be in common.

4. All members must be prepared to attend meeting at any time and call off any date if necessary.

5. No member will be allowed to have his lessons prepared better than any other member, bearing in mind that our motto is Brotherhood.

A meeting will be held next week for the election of officers and to commence work on the first program.

The Phi Sigma Psi club entertained in honor of Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Collins. Among the guests present were Misses E. Dunn, Holman, O'Neale, Phillips and Mrs. French. A picnic supper was served.

Miss Amy Anthes returned from Colfax where she was the weekend guest of relatives. That fried chicken sure did make her arm stiff, but speaking of after effects, suffice it to say it was food for "wild dreams" in the wee small hours at the Phi Sigma Psi house.

School Organizes For French War Drive

At an assembly of the young women the Home Economics department last week, the matter of subscribing for a fund for the Fatherless Children of France was presented to the students by Miss Kugel and by the students. It was voted that the school take some action in the matter. Miss Alda Allen was elected chairman of a committee which she herself was to select, the duty of the committee to be the organization for and collection of funds for this purpose. October 25 at assembly Miss Allen reported that the following had been selected as members of her committee:

Alda Allen, chairman; Shirley Eagle, secretary-treasurer; Miss Kugel, faculty advisor; Alice Benson, Tainter Annex; Edna Mathews, Tainter Annex; Margaret Moschel, Tainter Annex; Ella Becker, Tainter Hall; Regina Owens, Tainter Hall; Bertha Gehrke, Menomonie Girls; Elizabeth Ann Schultze, out-of-town girls; Ann Jackson, Tashes; Elinor Reinardy, Phi Sigma Psi club.

These young women represent the different groups of students in dormitories and boarding houses. It was decided by the committee that students would be asked to make pledges of monthly subscriptions for the remainder of the school year, that the first Wednesday in each month would be pay-day, at which time students would be asked to make good their pledges by paying the money in person to the representative of their group. Students were most enthusiastic about the whole plan and a hearty response has been met with. Many pledges being most generous and far beyond the anticipation of the committee.

Lieut. McCarthy is going to present the matter to the boys and the girls expect a large contribution to the fund from that source.

Letter From French Orphan of the Y.W.C.A.

The Stoutonia presents to the students a translation by Miss Kugel of the letter received from the mother of the orphan adopted last spring by the Y. W. C. A.

My dear Benefactor:

You can not believe the happiness that you have caused us to experience in learning the great kindness that you have for us, in coming to our aid in our sad situation. After having suffered during 26 months of captivity with these barbarians, we arrived in France, our hearts full of hope, and have met only disillusion. My husband died on the field of honor, leaving me with a task indeed noble and worthy, that of bringing up my child.

Dear Benefactor, it is with difficulty that I comprehend the extent of my misfortune—the boches permitted us to pass with 25 francs and 30 kilograms of luggage—with which we can not go far. But I have gone to work to procure the necessities for my Simone, who is so sweet, but life is so hard sometimes and one must make sacrifices to buy a little furniture.

The photograph of my little one I hope will give you pleasure, but we wish greatly that you will also send your photograph. We shall be so proud to know you.

Our dear county, Croisilles, has been retaken a few days ago by our dear allies. There remains no longer one stone upon the other. But what really matters is the cry of victory that we wish for, for without the aid of our great America there would no longer be any of our poor France to serve breakfast to their ferocious appetite.

Let us hope, dear Benefactor, that soon we shall be able to cry with rapture.

Vive (long live) Franco, vive l'Amérique and its allies.

Thank you with all my heart for your kindness, and receive the assurance of my respectful regards.

Vve Herbomez.

Sweet kisses from Simone.

P. S.—I have not yet cashed the check for the end of July (not yet received the money for the last quarter). Let us hope that it will not be so late for the next quarter in October. Perhaps it has gone astray.

A Letter From Last Year's Graduate

Mr. Milnes received a letter from J. V. Lynn of Des Moines, Iowa in which Mr. Lynn tells of his work in organization of vocational classes in the state. Mr. Lynn went to Iowa as Supervisor of Vocational Education for Trades and Industries and as assistant to Mr. Bender the State Director. Mr. Lynn reports that he likes the members of the Board and Mr. Bender very much. Since taking hold of his duties Mr. Lynn has met Mr. K.G. Smith, Regional Director for the District and Mr. L. H. Carries of the Federal Board of Vocational Education. Mr. Lynn speaks well of these men. The Influenza epidemic has prevented Mr. Lynn's opening of his supervisory duties but he is getting all the classes organized and making full arrangement for the work when the ban is lifted.

Basket Ball practice started Wednesday, November 22. A large number of candidates reported. Judging from the amount of material and ability of the men for the game, there is no reason why Stout should not be well represented this year.

Directory of the S. A. T. C. Students

The Stoutonia prints herewith a complete directory of students now enrolled in the Industrial Arts course. There are ninety-six students now enrolled in the Students' Army Training corps. The War department order which requested the course so arranged as to give different work to men of different ages has been put in full swing and the students sectioned to give the best work to them. The name and home address of the student are given.

Results of War Orphan Drive.

All members of the S. A. T. C. of Stout Institute have contributed toward a fund for the adoption and maintainance of French Orphans. These pledges consist of monthly payments to be made within the next three months. The total pledge is $118.50 which will provide for at least three orphans for that period. A payment of $30.50 will be made toward the fund this month.

The total amount pledged by the Home Economics department, including faculty members, office force and students is $40.20 per month, or $283.50 per year. This added to $118 the amount pledged by the S. A. T. C. men makes a total of $401.50. This meaning the support of 9 or 10 orphans for one year is a record of which the school may well be proud.

The men of the faculty have not been reached as yet but the girls' committee plans to do this immediately.

Industrial Teachers Needed In Chicago

The following communication from Mr. Albert O. Bauersfeld, Supervisor of Manual Training in the High Schools in the City of Chicago will be of much interest. It shows the need of teachers of industrial subjects and shows the big opportunities for those who are available at the present time. In a letter addressed to Dr. Harvey, Mr. Bauersfeld said he was anxious to have graduates of Stout take the examinations as he wanted them in his corps of teachers whenever possible. Teachers of a number of years of experience generally receive an advance standing on the Chicago salary schedule in the ratio of two years of outside experience counting for one year of promotion on the Chicago schedule.

The following circular is addressed from the Board of Education, City of Chicago, Tribune Building; Educational Division Department of Manual Training in High Schools.

Information regarding examination of candidates for certificates to teach manual training in the Chicago Public High Schools.

Major Subjects: Mechanical Drawing, Foundry, Woodworking, Electrical Construction, Sheet Metal, Printing, Machine Shop, Blacksmithing.

The next examination will be held on December 27th and 28th,

Requirements for Admission: Candidates for Limited Certificates—(No University degree required). They must present in advance, credentials showing: (a) A diploma of graduation from a four year high school course of the grade of the Chicago Public Schools. (b) At least three years of special training in the major subject;—Two years of teacher's training course and one year of teaching major subjects will be accepted. (d) Six years of special training (trade experience) in manual training subjects. This section does not apply to mechanical drawing. Salary, $1,200 to $2,575. Annual increase averages $86.00.

Candidates for General Certificates: They must present in advance, credentials showing the following: (a) Graduation from an accredited college. (b) Two years of successful experience in graded schools, and two years of practical experience in the major subject; or—(a) Graduation from an accredited college. (b) Two years of successful experience in teaching the major subject. Salary, $1,200 to $3,000. Annual increase averages $112.50.

For information booklet and application blank address Board of Examiners, Room 828, Tribune Building. Send 10 cents for copies of previous examinations.

The present need for teachers seems to indicate that successful candidates will have little difficulty in obtaining positions.

Vocational Board

Entertained by H. A. Girls

On October 29, the State Board of Vocational Education met at the Stout Institute. They were guests at noon at the S. A. T. C. mess hall, as were also Dr. Harvey and Miss Kugel. An excellent dinner was served and was thoroughly enjoyed.

At six o'clock dinner was served in their honor by the class in Cookery II under Miss Turner's direction, assisted by a group of sophomore girls who had charge of the setting of the table and serving under Miss Boughton's supervision. Those in attendance at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Harvey, Lieut. and Mrs. McCarthy, Miss Kugel, John Callahan, state vocational director, A. R. Graham of Racine, W. F. Faulkes of Appleton, district supervisors of vocational work, Thomas P. Konop, J. H. McQuaid, George F. Comings, Moncena Dunn, Miles L. Helmen, L. H. Carris and C. E. Hanson.

Miss Liedloff Gives Rules

Regulating Library

The H. E. department are now having regular assembly on Tuesday and Thursday at 11:30. On Oct. 29 Miss Liedloff, the librarian, spoke to the students on the advantages and opportunities afforded by the Stout Institute library. She said that both she and Miss Halseth were there for the purpose of helping students and that they never wanted anyone to leave without finding what she was looking for. She reminded her audience of the library rules which are very few—that students are expected to maintain silence; short reference books may be kept out from 5:30 p. m. to 8:30 a. m. only; long reference books may be retained two weeks at the end of which period they may be renewed; and lastly for overdue books a fine of 5 cents a day will be charged hereafter.

Arthur J. Roeh of this city who has been a student at Stout during the summer session and the past month left Oct. 23, for Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg, Miss. Mr. Roeh was among a contingent of selected men sent out by the Local Draft Board, but now we expect him to return soon.

An article unsigned, and written in a woman's handwriting, concerning the recent illness and recovery of Private Thompson has been turned in at the Print Shop. Private Thompson wishes to know who is taking so much interest in him.

Be Loyal! Finish the Fight!

In the near future the students will be asked to subscribe to the Victory Liberty loan. Be ready with a generous hand.

Stout has always done her share formerly when it was a question of doing something for the benefit of our country or for the purpose of backing our soldiers. The students have been ready to give to their utmost for all causes that might lead to victory. Now that the boys have finished their job so well and have brought victory to our country so that it will keep its place in the world, we should be more than willing to complete the job in a satisfactory manner.

There should be a spirit of thankfulness among us for the prospering country in which we live and we should especially be thankful for the avoiding of disasters that might have been. If we want permanent peace we will get it in no better way than by lending money to the government in subscribing to the Victory Loan.

The Victory loan organization is depending on three things to put the loan over this time:

Patriotism.

"Finish the job."

Investment.

Patriotism is considered as important as both the other two put together and will receive one-half the emphasis in the advertising. The American people are always known to finish the job. The terms of the loan alone make it a good investment, the notes are issued May 20, 1919, and mature May 20, 1923, with interest at 4% per cent. The quota for the entire country is $4,500,000,000, and for Dunn county $425,000, the drive will start April 28, so be ready and when your turn comes. Let us as students of Stout show that our loyalty is lasting; that we do not leave a job unfinished. Buy Liberty bonds.

Albert Kroening Dies In A Training Camp

Word has just been received by the Stout Institute authorities from Albert Kroening, of Wausau, Wis., that his son, Emil C. Kroening, died in Camp Taylor, Ky., February 4, 1919. Emil Kroening was graduated from the Stout Institute in 1917, and in the fall of that year took up the teaching of the Industrial Arts in the high school at Checotah, Okla., where he taught for the remainder of the year. He enlisted on the 28th of June, 1918, and was sent to Camp Taylor, Ky., where he remained until his death. His death was caused from pneumonia.

Mr. Kroening was a graduate of the Wausau County Agricultural school and the Hausau high school. He was an earnest, faithful student, and well thought of by his associates and teachers. Their sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

Cabinet Council Meeting

The Y. W. C. A. cabinets from Eau Claire and River Falls Normals will be represented here at a Cabinet Council meeting to be held on April 26 and 27. Our secretary, Miss Brent, from Chicago, will be here Friday and the first meeting will be held that evening.

The girls of the visiting cabinets will be entertained while here at the Tainter Hall and Annex. Many things have been planned to make their stay here a pleasant one.

The County Fair A Great Success

The biggest and best County Fair ever held at Stout was given under the direction of the finance committee of the Y. W. C. A., at the Home Economics building, Saturday evening, April 12.

We know it beat every previous one financially, and well, we know it did as far as features are concerned, too. If you weren't there, that's your fault and we aren't going to tell you about what you missed. The parade at noon served its purpose all right, because Stout, as well as the High school students and townspeople, were well represented, as was indicated by the crowds and the receipts of the evening. About 300 people were served at supper. We hate to "brag up" our own cooking, but it was a mighty good supper—and talk about good management, why, there were only a few pickles and a dish of salad left, which went to Home-makers.

The supper profits amounted to $56.17, the candy booth cleared $58.29, the vaudeville show brought in $48.34, and the ice cream parlor netted $29.50. These with the various other attractions summed up to $216.71. We hope the Alumnae see this, for in 1916 they cleared $45; in 1917, $103; and in 1918, $151. We beat the biggest total up to this year by $65.71. Aren't we the lasses?

Demand for Stout Teachers Breaks All Previous Records

One morning last week there were twenty-five requests for teachers sent in to the office in one mail. This is a record-breaker for one time, but the daily number is far in excess of any previous year, and students are being placed with a large selection and better salaries than usual.

This shows that two things are

Contest for Selection of New School Songs

A song contest is being run in order to select some good "pepie" Stout songs, and also an Alma Mater. Every student should take an interest in helping to establish permanent school songs. Get your poetic mentality to working and hand in your symposiums and the tune, to any of the Stoutonia staff.

This week's production:

PARODY ON "WE AIN'T GOT WEARY YET."

We ain't got weary yet,
No, we ain't got weary yet.
Been buying "Baby bonds" and Thrift Stamps," too.
And that's the least one fellow can do.
An' we ain't got weary yet.
An' we never will, you bet.
Now that the boys have done their share,
We'll buy bonds until we're square.
To show our "Allies" we're still there.
And we ain't got weary yet.

CLASS OF 1920.

The Freshman class organized very recently and elected the following officers:

Alice Toby, president.
Sam Hill, vice-president.
Alice Benson, secretary.
Ed. Melby, treasurer.

Since the first meeting the class has shown spirit that has not been seen at Stout for many years. Every member seems to have lots of "pep."

It has been decided to have the annual "prom" May 2, and it is expected to be something out of the ordinary. Miss Micheels, Mrs. Duncan and Mr. Anderson will have charge of the affair, aided by every member of the Freshman class.

The Freshman representatives on the Stoutonia staff are: Roger Carrington, assistant editor; Arthur Anderson, advertising manager; Miss Micheels, assistant Home Economics editor, and Sam Hill, assistant Industrial Arts editor.

What Was the Cost?

Jo—I was touched by her sweet manner.

Jim—For how much?

Results of Stoutonia Subscription Campaign

Perhaps the most enthusiastic support our school paper has ever received was displayed at the subscription drive conducted during the assembly period on Wednesday, April 16. After two rather short, but animated appeals given by the editor-in-chief and the business manager, little "I promise to pay" cards were distributed to all present, and a lively spirit of competition between the boys and girls netted a splendid list of subscribers. On Wednesday the results were as follows: Boys, 60 subscriptions, or 90 per cent; girls, 121 subscriptions or 93 per cent; faculty and office force, 22 subscriptions. Total, 203 subscriptions.

At the assembly Monday morning the percentage of the girls was raised to 102 per cent and the boys to 96 per cent. The percentages being brought up by quite a number of double subscriptions.

We are certainly very grateful to our loyal supporters and we also take this means and opportunity to thank the business men of Menomonie for their generous and hearty support of The Stoutonia with their advertising.

DEMAND FOR STOUT TEACHERS.

very evident: First, that the demand for Industrial Arts and Home Economics teachers this year is far in excess of the supply of capable instructors. Second, that Stout is the place that the most capable teachers are sought for.

The number of students that are ready to accept positions this year is smaller than usual and it is contemplated that there will be many good positions left unsupplied.

ARMY INTELLIGENCE TEST.

Mr. Rogers gave an army intelligence test in his Vocational Education class last week for the purpose of acquainting the class of the form used. It resulted in a girl obtaining the highest grade, but the boys had the higher average. The results were as follows: Highest grade, 150; boys' average, 126; girls' average, 102.

Mr. K. G. Smith of the Federal Board Visits Here

Mr. K. G. Smith, Regional Director for the Federal Board of Vocational Education, and Mr. E. E. Gunn, District Director for the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational Education, were visitors at the Institute Tuesday, April 15. Mr. Smith was present in an official capacity but yet during his short stay was able to present to the class in Vocational Education and to the faculty of the Industrial Arts Department some of the recent developments in the field in which we are most interested.

The development of teacher training work was one of the interesting topics discussed. It was pointed out that with the movement fostered and supported by the Federal Board and the drawing in of large numbers of skilled workers in these classes that there was a tendency to oversupply the existing demand. On the surface this might appear as a short-sighted policy but upon analysis it is found that there is a decided need within industry for teacher foreman who are designated to give varying amounts of their time to the instruction of beginners. The fact that these skilled men have had some teacher training means that they are better qualified for the instructional work in the shop and the factory. The fact that industry itself will absorb a fair share of these men means that the danger of oversupply is not very imminent.

An interesting discussion also arose concerning the various forms of industrial and trade education eligible for Federal and State aid. The following schools and classes were very profitably discussed:

Unit Trade Schools or Classes.

A unit trade school or class established under the Federal act in a public school or class established and maintained in any community for the purpose of fitting persons for useful employment in a particular trade or industrial pursuit through instruction of less than college grade (a) designed to meet the needs of persons over 14 years of age; (b) giving not less than half of the time to practical work on a useful or productive basis; and (c) extending over not less than 9 months (36 weeks) per year, and not less than 30 (clock) hours per week.

General Industrial Schools or Classes.

A general industrial school or class established under the Federal act is a public school or class established and maintained in any city or town of less than 25,000 population for the purpose of fitting persons for useful employment in trade or industry through instruction of less than college grade (a) designed to meet the needs of persons over 14 years of age; and (b) giving not less than half the time to practical work on a useful or productive basis. The general industrial school is designed to meet the particular needs of cities or towns of less than 25,000 population.

Part-Time Trade Extension Schools or Classes.

A trade extension part-time school or class established under the Federal act is a public school or class established and maintained in any community for the purpose of giving instruction of less than college grade to persons over 14 years of age who have entered upon the work of a trade or industrial pursuit, which instruction shall further fit persons taking it for useful employment in the trade or industrial pursuit in which they are employed. The instruction in a trade extension part-time school or class must (a) meet the needs of persons over 14 years of age; and must be given for not less than 144 hours per year.

Part-Time Trade Preparatory Schools or Classes.

A trade preparatory part-time school or class established under the Federal act is a public school or class established and maintained in any community for the purpose of giving instruction of less than college grade to persons over 14 years of age who have entered upon employment, which instruction shall be designed to fit these persons for useful employment in a trade or industrial pursuit other than the one in which they are employed. The instruction in a trade-preparatory part-time school or class must (a) meet the needs of persons over 14 years of age; and (b) must be given for not less than 144 hours per year.

Part-Time General Continuation Schools or Classes.

A general continuation part-time school or class established under the Federal act is a public school or class established and maintained in any community for the purpose of giving instruction of less than college grade to persons over 14 who have entered upon employment, which instruction shall be given in subjects to enlarge the civic or vocational intelligence of young workers. The instruction in a general continuation part-time school or class must (a) be designed to meet the needs of persons over 14 and less than 18 years of age; (b) be given for less than 144 hours per year.

Evening Industrial Schools or Classes.

An evening industrial school or class established under the Federal act is a public school or class established and maintained in any community for the purpose of giving instruction of less than college grade in a particular trade, supplemental to the day employment, to persons over 16 years of age who have entered upon employment in that trade or industrial pursuit.

"Mike" Timbers, a graduate of 1917, has recently been discharged from the Navy and is now in Menomonie.

Does everyone know that the supper served at the County Fair was worked out as a thesis under the supervision of Miss Dunn?

Ruth Hammer spent the Easter vacation at her home in Galesville.

Rachel Gilbert is going home to Duluth to spend the Easter vacation.

Samuel Demeit, '17, of Lake Mills, has accepted a position as teacher at Manual Training at Beaver Dam, Wis., for the ensuing year.

"Bill" Fisher sure keeps the walk hot to the Tainter Annex. But we don't blame him.

Art Anderson seems to like the island at the other end of the lake pretty well.

Coach Miller is rapidly recovering from a badly sprained foot. The coach was demonstrating a new kind of a jump over the horse when the accident happened.

Harvey Snively's show at the County Fair was a great success. He certainly deserves credit for picking out that beauty chorus.

Harold Jenerjohn spent Easter at his home in Appleton.

J. A. Mork visited in Owatonna, Minn., during Easter.

Russell Owen spent Easter in Durand.

Gertrude McKellar and Marguerite Grayton spent the vacation in the Twin Cities.

Misses O'Neale and Holman spent the Easter vacation out of town.

Flora Streiff and Dorothy Dickenson went to Eau Claire for Easter.

Josephine Holte and Florence Luetscher spent Easter at Mondovi, Wis.

Leone Hullivan went to Stillwater for Easter. Helen Nowak went with her.

Miss Phillips spent Easter vacation at Madison.

Alice Toby spent the vacation at Wausau.

Bernice Brady went to Green Bay for Easter.

Mrs. Niles spent the week end at Minneapolis with her daughter, who is a Stout graduate.

Mr. Neil Morgan was here visiting Miss Katherine Jansen.

Miss Alice M. Donnelly was in town this week end, in the interest of a Philadelphia Domestic Science Institute.

Gertrude McKellar's sister from Moose Jaw, Canada, returned from the Twin Cities with Gertrude for a few days visit.

Dorothy Donlin spent the week end in St. Paul, Minn.

S. E. Becklund has signed for a position at Wausau, Wis. "Beck" was the first to land a job this year. He is to receive $1200 for nine months school.

The following fellows who have been in the army and navy have been heard from and will re-enter Stout next September: "Jack" Cross, Grant Urquhart and "Fish" Herring.

"Bill" Hamilton was a visitor to Elroy last week end. "Bill's" home is at Durand but he likes to go to Elroy.

Frank Gogins, a student at Stout last year, was a visitor here during the Easter vacation. Frank spent six months at St. Aignon, France. He expects to enter Stout again next fall.

Can anyone tell us why Harry Kroll goes to Rusk to spend his week ends?

Miss Stone from Minneapolis is visiting Miss Alice Benson.

Mabel Hooper accompanied Della Ludall to her home at Cumberland for the Easter vacation.

Please notice how generously the city merchants have supported the Stoutonia in the way of advertising. Remember them when you do your shopping.

Mr. Joe Gagnon, '18, spent Monday and Tuesday of his Easter vacation in Menomonie visiting Stout and old friends. Joe is teaching at Little Falls, Minn., and likes teaching fine. While here he was a guest of the Menomin Club.

Mr. Davis Christensen spent Easter at home. That probably accounts for the big smile that he is wearing.

SOPHOMORE ELECTION OF STAFF OFFICERS.

On Thursday of last week the Sophomore class met to elect officers for the Stoutonia staff. Vice-president McMahon presided at the meeting and after a short stump speech, the following officers were elected on the Stoutonia staff: Miss Gilbert, news editor; Mr. Arthur Henke, sporting editor; Mr. William A. Fisher, industrial arts editor, and Miss Elsa Hellberg, Home Economics editor.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTION.

Several weeks ago men interested in the Y. M. C. A. met to elect officers for the coming year. The officers elected were: Arthur Anderson, president; Sam Hill, vice-president; and Victor Valeske, secretary-treasurer.

The officers elected took up the duties of their office immediately so that they may get a line on the work. The purpose of this is to so thoroughly acquaint them with their work that they may easily handle it for the coming school year.

Victory Liberty Loan Rally Enthuses Large Audience

The Stout Auditorium was swelled with Americanism last Friday evening, April 25, when residents from all parts of Dunn county swarmed to the Victory Liberty loan rally, given under the auspices of the soldiers, sailors and marines.

The parade, which was mobilized at 6:30 p. m. on Broadway, marched up Main street and back on Wilson avenue to the auditorium. It was headed by the Ludington Guard Band, and was comprised of all the returned soldiers, sailors and marines, the Homeguard, and the S. A. T. C. in their respective uniforms. The weather was ideal and a large crowd lined the streets to witness the procession.

The auditorium was packed to the doors by 7 o'clock, and the program started promptly with the "Star Spangled Banner." The rally was conducted by Lieut. Paul Bailey and many patriotic and popular songs were sung between speeches under the leadership of Mr. Paul E. Gregg. Several preliminary talks were given by overseas men who have had front line experiences, and the address of the evening was delivered by Lieut. George Wyatt, of the Canadian Tank Corps.

The feeling of true "Americanism" was forcefully impressed upon the audience in regard to their response to the call for payment of "Services Rendered." Lieut. Wyatt did not appeal for the sense of responsibility but rather demanded it. He assured the people that they must pay in spite of themselves, but what an honorable way to finish a fight as honorably started. He made comparisons of the small requirements of this nation, with all its prosperity, and the heavy burdens placed upon the already over-laden people of the allied nations, who have trudged through four and one-half years of the war. The point of the address penetrated the conscience of all loyal

Boost Your School!

Do you want Stout Institute to have A lot of "go" and "pep?"
Do you want your Alma Mater To have a well-fixed "rep?"
Do you want the school you leave behind Well-known for miles around,
So folks will know that you are from A school of some renown?
Are you knocking?
Are you boosting?
Are you loyal to the core?
Are you taking every chance you get To tell what Stout stands for?
Then contribute to your paper.
That's the way that things get out
If you're backing the Stoutonia
You are surely boosting Stout.

World Fellowship Picnic

The World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. entertained the teachers who lead the discussion groups, at a picnic up the creek Thursday evening after school. From all reports they must have had a merry time, and though it wouldn't be policy to tell all that happened here, we are assured that anyone calling at Miss Williams' office will be given a detailed account of a scrap that took place during the course of the evening. It has even been suggested that a girls' pugilistic training class be established here since we have such promising candidates for the ring. A gentle hint to you (also gathered from the picnic): If you are planning on taking Elsie Larupe along to another picnic, it would be wise to have a fire warden within calling distance. "Nuff sed!"

citizens present when illustrated by the flaring brightness of the I. O. O. F. red, white and blue Victory electric sign, at the side of the stage, and the sentiment of the entire audience responded with the answer of the sign below it, "We will."

Alumni Reunion To Be Held Here From May 30 to June 2

Our Alumni members will indeed be glad to hear that a general reunion is being planned again this year. May 30, 31 and June 2 have been reserved for this purpose and from the keen interest already shown by various groups of Alumni we are sure of a big success, although through the circulation of the Stoutonia and also through other methods of publicity we hope to reach and interest as many more Stout graduates as possible.

The Stout Institute Alumni Association was organized about ten years ago and the meeting held at that time was very successful, although not much more was done until about three or four years ago, when many of the more local students requested a reunion. Owing to the fact that our graduates are scattered all over the states, annual reunions do not appear advisable, but a plan for localized meetings in different parts of the country has been developed which in some places has resulted in strong and active groups. The St. Paul-Minneapolis group represents a lively Alumni unit which holds meetings at least one a year. There is also one in Milwaukee. However, we are more than pleased to note the growing desire on the part of many for general Home Comings to be held in Menomonie every few years. Such a meeting was held here two years ago and the great enthusiasm and interest displayed at that time leads us to action again this year.

Aside from getting together, meeting old friends, making new ones and recalling good old Stout days and inspecting our ideal new buildings, we have an additional interest for our Alumni this year, and that is the opportunity of looking into the two years of advanced work in both the Home Economics and Industrial Arts Departments. In spite of the fact that this work is still very new, it is

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Council

Fourteen girls from Eau Claire and three girls from River Falls represented their respective schools at a Cabinet Council of the Young Women's Christian Association at Menomonie, Saturday and Sunday. Miss Hazel Bent, our secretary, from Chicago, was here from Friday night until Monday morning.

Lenore Hunter, from River Falls Normal, the Undergraduate Field representative for this district, took charge of the meetings.

At 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning the meeting was opened by Emma Jane Wells with an address of welcome to the visiting Cabinets. Miss Bent then took charge. Among other things, the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. was discussed.

In the afternoon from 1:30 until 2 Miss Bent talked to the Cabinet members from Menomonie alone, giving them many valuable suggestions and much advice. From 2 until 3 o'clock the chairmen of the same committees from different schools discussed their work for the coming year. Reports of these committees were made later in River Side Park.

The girls who planned the dinner, which was served Saturday evening in the Home Economics building surely deserve credit. Everything was very successful. Many interesting talks were given during the dinner.

At a quarter to eight an open meeting was held in the living rooms at the Annex. The girls are helping to support a missionary in Japan, and Miss Bent told them about Elizabeth Dunning and her work in Tokio. Then many other interesting things about the associates and plans, interesting ones, for the coming year were talked about. The last meeting was held at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Afterwards everyone went to the Congregational church in a body.

So much inspiration was gained from the discussion committee group meetings. The reports which followed were full of enthusiasm for the coming year. The Big Sisterhood movement and the Eight Week clubs are to be boosted to the highest degree.

Though the time with Miss Bent was short, the girls are already looking forward to seeing her at Geneva this summer, and some have even been thinking of her visit to the Stout Institute next year. How much they enjoyed having her and the visiting Cabinets here and how much everyone got out of the council!

The visitors were entertained at the Annex and Hall while here and the association wishes to take this opportunity to thank all the girls and teachers who helped make their visit here successful.

STOUT DANCE.

Did you know there was a Stout dance Friday evening after the Victory loan drive? Well, nobody did up to about ten minutes before it began. The report at 7:30 Friday night was that it had been postponed but someone with a lot of pep and ambition got a crowd and some music together at the eleventh hour—and it wasn't such a bad dance either. All it needed was a bigger (not better) crowd and longer hours.

LETTER FROM STOUT

ORPHAN'S MOTHER.

The following is the translation of a letter received from the mother of the French war orphan adopted by the students last year:

"Houilles, March 19, 1919.

"Dear Benefactor:

"My daughter, Simone, and I wish to thank you for the interest which you have shown for her. Be assured that we are glad to be inscribed in that patriotic deed which is so noble after a worldly conflict where France has given all.

"The summer weather gives us hope of rebuilding our homes and returning to our ruins where so many memories are attached.

"Also, in not having any possessions of our own, I am all the more grateful for your interest which you have shown to my little Simone.

"Accept, dear benefactor, with our thanks the expression of our gratitude.

"WIDOW HERBONNEZ."

A little bit of moonshine;

A lot of hugs and kisses,

Makes a pretty maiden

This Week's Song Productions

(Tune of Solomon Levi)

Away up north among the pines

There is a school called Stout.

From North to South, from East to West

That's all you hear about.

The boys they learn to build the house;

The girls to cook and sew.

Now isn't this the best in life,

As far as we all know?

Oh, happy hours—

Everyone at Stout.

These happy hours

We're without a doubt.

Come join us.

Be ye prudent, be ye wise

Don't stop now to debate,

But make for us a better land

Of our United States.

Contributed by Phi Sigma Psi.

STOUT SONG.

Talk about your colleges,

I air Harvard and old Yale!

And all the universities

Whose banners brave the gale.

No college, university or school could ever show

So great, so true, so brave a crew of students as we know.

For we are jolly students of our good old Stout,

We're here to shout

Our colors are the blue and white.

We hear the stars and stripes

Of our America—rah! rah! rah!

We're the ones out for the right.

MY ROWS-AWRY.

The hours I spent in sweater art

Are as a string of purls, I sigh.

To count them over, everyone apart—

My rows awry, my rows awry.

Each purl I purl; each purl take care

To drop no stitch, lest I be stung.

I count, yes counted unto the end—And there a sleeve is hung.

O, memories that bless and burn

Of raveling out at bitter loss.

I drop a purl, yet strive at last to learn

To knit across, sweet art, to knit across.

—Exchange.

Freshman: "I'm studying my best to get ahead.

Sophomore: You sure need one.

ORDERS THAT APPLY TO STUDENTS AT STOUT.

My General Orders are:

1. To take charge of all books and lessons in view.
2. To pursue my studies in a studious manner, observing all pictures in the book, and others that may interest me.
3. To report all whispering that may go on around me.
4. To repeat all gossip that will interest anyone but myself.
5. To quit my studies only when they have been thoroughly prepared.
6. To receive, obey and pass on to other students the rules and regulations regarding your conduct at Stout.
7. To speak only when spoken to in all classes.
8. In case of disorder in your practice class, to lock the door and prepare for the worst.
9. To allow no one to be a nuisance at or near the Annex.
10. In any case not covered by instructions, refer to James' Psychology.
11. To salute all instructors and janitors in or about the school building.
12. To be especially watchful after seven-thirty, during which time instructors may be seen on the streets and to seize every possible opportunity to duck in dark alleys to avoid being seen.

Can You Do It?

Oh, say, can you sing from the start to the end,
What so peculiarly you stand for when orchestras play it?
When the whole congregation in voices that blend,
Strike up the grand tune and then torture and slay it!
How valiant they shout when they're first starting out;
But the dawn's early light finds them floundering about,
T's "The Star Spangled Banner"
they're trying to sing,
But they don't know the words of the precious, brave thing.

Hark, the twilight's last gleaming has some of them stopped,
But the valiant survivors press forward serenely
To the ramparts we watched, when some others are dropped,
And the loss of the leaders is manifest keenly,
Then "the rocket's red glare" gives the bravest a scare,
And there's few left to face the
"bombs bursting in air";
'Tis a thin line of heroes that manage to save
The last of the verse and "the home of the brave."

(Try this on your piano to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner.")

American Army University Opened.

The American army university has been opened at Beaune, southeast of Paris. It is said to be the largest institute in the world for university instruction in English. Its faculty numbers 500 men, drawn mainly from the American expeditionary forces. It had an initial enrollment of 20,000 soldier-students for the three-month courses. The university is housed in buildings formerly used as an American hospital. Provisions are made for practical instruction in scientific agriculture, engineering, art and architecture. In addition to the university, schools have been organized for instructing soldiers in various common-school and high school branches, and for teaching them in a practical manner all kinds of useful trades.

PICNIC.

On Saturday of last week some of the girls at the Annex received an inspiration. The inspiration was in the form of a picnic. Anyway when one of the fellows called up for a date, the idea or inspiration was given to him for consideration, and the result was that a little picnic was planned for about six couples.

About 5 o'clock the party left Krogstad's Landing for Picnic Point. They arrived at the point about 6 o'clock, a fire was started and the "dogs" were started sizzling. They didn't sizzle long though because it was a hungry bunch that they had to feed. A good part about the feed was the salad. The girls said that it didn't take them more than ten minutes to make it, and that the apples were peeled with a spoon, and they cut the pineapple with a spoon, and a whole lot more about how puny it was but when it came to the eating of it, there was almost a scrap among the fellows to see who would get seconds on it.

It sure was some successful picnic, and here is hoping that some of the girls at the Annex get the same inspiration some time again. The picnic was properly chaperoned.

Private Raymond Browe, a former student at Stout, is home on a ten-day furlough. Browe is stationed at Camp Grant, and hopes to receive his discharge soon.

Sam Hall is becoming so used to calling at the Annex that he walks in without knocking.

For some unknown reason, Earl Archie has taken quite a fancy to canoeing. Will someone try and find out from Archie what has caused this decided change.

Mr. Clarence Buckholz, member of the class of '18, has been visiting Stout and old friends for the past week. "Buck" enlisted in November of 1917 and after a few months' training in this country was sent across. He wears two gold service stripes, and of this length of service, eight months was spent in Paris. He was in Paris during the bombardment and he says that it was real exciting there during that time. We sure are glad to have "Buck" with us again and we are hoping that he will come back to Stout again next fall.

LOCAL BUZZ

Miss Esther Johnson, who has been visiting Kathryn Perry, returned to her home in Amery, Wis., Wednesday morning.

Miss Gertrude Fieweger, a 1917 Stout graduate, was back at Stout last week as the guest of Jean Moore.

"Es" Kellar has been laid up for a couple of weeks with a sprained knee. Cheer up, Es, a sprained knee isn't as bad as a broken heart.

Fern Clark, who had her foot quite badly injured when a runaway team knocked her down, is doing nicely.

Mabel Coates, who spent the Easter vacation with her folks in Yankton, S. D., returned Wednesday morning of last week, bringing her grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Coates, with her. Mrs. Coates expects to remain for a couple of weeks.

Miss O'Neale's dressmaking class is having their dress parade this week, displaying their silk dresses and suits which have been the problem of the past ten weeks.

Miss Hortense Thomas, a 1918 graduate, who is teaching at Minneapolis, and her last year's roommate, Mrs. Frances Gabriel Durner, also a 1918 graduate, now teaching at Madison, spent the week end visiting the girls at Tashes.

Those of you who have not heard before about Della Lerdall's alligator which arrived from Florida by express in a cigar box, April 12, have heard too late, for Friday morning, having stood this northern climate and the fondling and petting of the Annex girls as long as he could, he up and died!! When Della got home from school Friday night, all funeral arrangements had been made and she found her beloved Eagle Foot lying in state among candles and flowers. Peace to his ashes!

The Phi-Sigma Psi initiated their pledges this week which accounts for the white stockings and blue ribbons floating around school. There were seventeen girls initiated.

The men in Miss Phillips' English class sure enjoyed listening to each other read from books.

Miss O'Neale, discussing the budget in Dressmaking: "What are some of the bigger expenses we have every month?"

Other schools are having song contests. The Milwaukee Sentinel for last Sunday contained the names and pictures of two Ripon college coeds who won prizes for composing college songs, "Alma Mater," a college song, and "Crimson," a football song. Why don't some Stout coed get busy?

Earl Archie remarked the other day that he did not like to take two couples in a canoe because the girls always talked behind his back.

The honors go to Elsie and Paul this year, for they were the first to fall in the lake. Elsie, with Paul's help, was climbing out of the canoe, her foot slipped and she went back into the water pulling him with her. The worst of it she tried to get in the Annex without being seen.

"Bill" Fisher sure did a lot of worrying last week over his lost and found column.

Dan Blide sure was carrying a long bundle under his arm the other night, but we presume it is doing duty at the Annex.

William Fisher has accepted a position at Gilbert, Minn. He is to teach printing and woodwork and is to receive $1400 a year.

Daniel C. Blide will teach next year at Flint, Mich. He is to teach carpentry and will receive $1300 a year.

Blide said he was going to take his canoe with him to Flint, Mich., and that he could make numerous trips back to Stout by way of the lake.

Clara Newberry: "Stamps."
(Maybe you do, Clara, but remember the S. A. T. C. didn't leave us all as fortunate as it did you.)

Miss W. in Micro: "Name 5 germs we have studied."

M. S.: "Four tubercular and one diphtheria."

Yep, he's leaving for Morocco next week.

Well, well, I always knew he was a brick but I didn't know he was Morocco-bound.

First Freshie: "Say, did the stripes in your uniform fade?"

Second Freshie: "Well, the white ones didn't."

Overheard at the picnic Saturday: My name isn't Miss Peterman, it's Peter.

Well, Miss Peter—
Now I want you to understand my name isn't Miss Peter.

(Well, I wonder what it is.)

Do the Stout Institute students know that they heard an eminent bacteriologist when they heard Dr. Frost? He has written one of the most noted bacteriology books ever written as well as having formulated charts for the study of bacteria. The fact that the charts used in Miss Williams' microbiology class are Dr. Frost's charts, may be of interest to those taking that course.

The lake is treacherous! Beware of deep water! Saturday afternoon Alice Tobey, Helen Nowak, Leon Sullivan and Bernice Brady fell in the lake, but as their guardian angels were with them they succeeded in reaching shore without any serious results. Having not been here last year to hear Dr. Harvey's talk, and not believing the sophomores, they did not realize what the result of walking up the side of canoe would be. Hear ye, freshmen, one and all—take advice from the all-wise sophomores—don't try any acrobatic features while in a canoe.

Can You Imagine:

Students not blowing up their home town and state.

Paul Ehrhard tipping over in a canoe with such a fair young lady as Miss Hellberg.

Louie Globokar with a girl.

Mr. Riley with a pompadour.

A students in the Industrial Arts Department being introduced to a member of the faculty of the Home Economics Department.

Anyone serenading the Annex.

A student not a subscriber of the Stoutonia.

Have You Noticed:

The Stoutonia is going again.

What a peppy little paper it is.

The number of advertisers that it has.

The ads are worth reading.

Some students are buying more than one copy of the Stoutonia and are sending them home. (Why not do this yourself?)

ALUMNI REUNION

proving to be of great value and will open to students with degrees of opportunities never available to Stout graduates heretofore. The Junior and Senior classes are doubly as big this year as they were last, which is surely a satisfying and encouraging outlook.

We heartily invite you to come and look into it for yourselves and to interview, if you like, those taking the work here now. You may find a great deal that will be of value and interest to you; in fact, we are sure that you will.

One thing we wish you all to remember, dear sisters and brothers: Menomonie and Stout are always open to you and we are glad to have you come and see us at any time, and especially so at our reunion this year, if you can possibly manage to get here.

Just drop us a card and say you're coming.

NOTICE!!!

There will be a food sale given by the 8th, 9th and 10th grades of the public schools on next Friday at the High school. This sale is under the direction of Dorothy Doulin and Della Lerdall, who are doing this as their thesis.

Go, see, and buy the good things to eat.

STATE CHAMPIONS.

Antigo High school holds the state championship in debating, competing with twenty-seven other High schools of the state and winning easily the final contest from Appleton. Menomonie gets third place with Appleton second. The local team certainly did well in debating this year and are the champions of this section of the state.

Mistaken Flattery.

Basket Ball Team

Handicapped by drill and other regulations of the S. A. T. C., the basketball team was unable to get practise under way until after the Christmas vacation. During the holidays, Stout was lured into a game with the University of Minnesota and there learned a great lesson in preparedness. The unbeaten Western Conference champions lost no time in getting into action and only the timekeeper's whistle prevented the scorekeepers from running out of numbers with which to record the University's goals.

With the resumption of school, Coach Miller was confronted with the problem of building up a new team, Hall being the only veteran of the preceding season left. With plenty of good material this was easily accomplished.

Stout was able not only to present a first team of exceptional playing ability but a strong second team as well. All home games were won and the team broke even on foreign floors. The strongest teams that could be booked were met and defeated. It is likewise worthy of note that the long string of victories which River Falls has enjoyed over Stout was definitely broken.

The team was called upon to play the longest and hardest schedule of any Stout team and did so with the greatest success. With many of this year's team back for next season, Coach Miller ought to be able to turn out another winner team next year.

SUGGESTED RULES.

A set of suggested rules for conducting the library:

1. Never forget to make all the noise possible in entering.
2. Always leave the door open.
3. Never be silent more than two minutes in succession, and never study for more than one and a half.
4. If you want help, yell at your friend across the way.
5. If it gets cold, open the window; if hot, shut it.
6. Use two chairs if possible, never be satisfied with one.
7. Never put a book, magazine, or paper back where it belongs. It saves work for the librarian.
8. When you get a reference book, that you know somebody else needs, keep it as long as possible.
9. In no case, ever talk below a whisper. It's hard on the librarian's nerves.
10. When leaving the library, observe the same procedure as when entering. Ex.

We have but just a few more weeks of school left. Are we doing the same amount and quality of work that we were doing at the beginning of the year?

Many of us will say that we have worked enough, and that we may loaf the remaining few weeks. Don't be a slacker. Every hour that we work means more experience. Be true to yourself and let's stick to it to a finish. Don't get the buck fever and lay down on a job when it is half finished.

Freshman Prom Enjoyed By All Who Were Present

On Friday of last week the annual Freshman Prom was held in the Stout gymnasium. There was an unusually large crowd present and the Prom was a success from the start. The students were greeted by Mrs. Harvey, Mr. Rodgers, Mrs. Dow, Miss Tobey, and Mr. Tillotson.

The Grand March started promptly at 9 o'clock, and was led by Miss Tobey, president of the Freshmen Class, and Mr. Tillotson, a former student of Stout. It was a very effective Grand March. Much of the effectiveness being due to the simplicity of it. The Grand March was followed by a peppy one-step which got the crowd into the full swing of the occasion.

The gymnasium was very neatly decorated with the class colors, green and white. This was something new in decorations at Stout, for in the past decorating has been done in the school colors. Nor was this the only thing new that the class had worked out in the line of decorations. The orchestra was located in the northwest corner of the gymnasium and was surrounded by green and white lattice work. The southwest corner was so artistically decorated that couples romantically inclined continually sought this refuge between dances. Evergreens were used freely in the decorating and helped wonderfully in putting life to the whole scheme.

Music was furnished by an orchestra gotten together by Mike Timbers, a graduate of Stout. Mike is to be credited in his selection of orchestras because he had some of the best musicians in the city, and the result was some of the best dance music heard at Stout for some time.

Later in the evening refreshments were served by some of the girls of the High school and they came only in time, for some of the dancers were showing signs of fatigue and hunger. After a short intermission dancing

A Spring Wish

O, would that I were a flower,
A daisy modest and fair;
I'd bloom on the hills and in the vales,
And always a smile I'd wear.

O, would that I were a bright bird,
A robin red breast, too;
I'd sing my songs to all the world,
And drink from the buttercup dew,

Were I but a butterfly,
With delicate bright golden wings,
I'd flit o'er fields of blossoms sweet,
What wonder my rare beauty brings

O, would I were all these things,
Just now that spring is here,
I'd live on the hills, in the valleys and air,
My great gladness would dry sorrow's tear.

was resumed and continued until about a quarter of one.

The Prom was a success from every point of view and as was stated, one of the most successful Proms ever held at Stout.

Hikers Hiking Again

The Hikers are coming to life again! Saturday morning the first hike since November was taken. Last fall the club was quite a thriving organization. Officers were elected and a number of peppy hikes were taken, among which were several to the Asylum, Menomonie Junction, Black's and the Poor Farm. A trip was planned to Eau Claire but Miss Kreuger suggested that the girls get limbered up a bit more before attempting a jaunt like that. If you are interested in being a Hiker, see Ann Jackson or watch the bulletin board for notice of hikes and come! We are going to have some good hikes and early morning breakfasts before school is out, so you'd better get in on the fun. Old Hikers see Alice Benson to make sure how many miles you have to get in before June to make the 100 miles.

Glee Club Operetta

Do you know that all these lovely Saturday afternoons that you have been canoeing or strolling, the girls in the Glee club have been practicing faithfully and untiringly on their operetta which is to be given the Tuesday night of Commencement week? The fact that among the leading characters are Elizabeth Ann Schulz, Ruth Fitch, and Gladys Dunn is assurance enough that it will be well worth your time and money to see it. It is a Japanese operetta and the costumes and settings are to be quite elaborate. Anticipate something good since Miss Gilkerson is directing it!

Local High Defeated

Eau Claire won first and third while Chippewa Falls won second place at a declamatory contest held in M. H. S. assembly room Friday night. The results of an oratorical contest held at Chippewa Falls the same evening were identical with those of the declamatory contest.

This Week's Song Productions

PARODY ON "I'M ALWAYS CHASING RAINBOWS."

We're always wanting rules off,
When warm spring weather's fine.
Just ask our Prexy if he won't Lose those rules that bind?
We all would go to find the sunshine,
But only hard, dull tasks we know.
If Prexy ever went a-fishing
Or knew the lure of a canoe, Believe me, he'd let those precious rules go,
Knowing we'd find the time our duties to do.

HOW SWEET THIS

LIFE WOULD BE

If students would to assembly go,
How sweet this life would be,
And profs. would take the foremost row,
How sweet this life would be,
If when we hear the piano play
Profs. Jarvis, Messer and perhaps Ray
Would lead us in the narrow way—
How sweet this life would be.

PARODY ON "SMILES."

Here's a cheer we give for Harvard,
Here's a cheer for good old Yale.
You can hear us cheer for many others
But our hearts will ever be right here.
'Tis for Stout you'll ever hear our voices,
Let them ring with lusty, hearty cheer.
Here's to Stout, our dear old Alma Mater,
Here's to Stout that we hold so dear.

PARODY ON "MY ROSARY."

The hours I spent with thee, textbooks
Are as a punishment to me.
I devour you over everyone—
My misery! my misery!
Each hour a trial, each trial a prayer,
To east a brain in fever wrung.
I do each take unto the end,
And there a "P" is hung.
Oh, lessons such that chill the heart,
In barren brains and lack of art
I begin each task and end it with a sigh:
It is too much—Oh, teachers! it makes me cry.

PARODY ON "HOW YA GONNA KEEP 'EM DOWN ON THE FARM?"

How ya gonna keep 'em up in their rooms?
After the springtime comes.
How ya gonna keep 'em from canoe-ing
Paddling along, singing a song.
How ya gonna break the spell of the moon
And take away their fun.
They'll never want to see a book or pen,
They'll never want to see the rules again.
How ya gonna keep 'em up in their rooms
After the springtime comes?

GLEE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

The Glee Club elected officers for next year. Those elected were:
President—Gertrude McKeller.
Vice-president—Edna Matthews.
Secretary—Alice Tobey.
Treasurer—Nina Andrews.
Librarian—Bertha Gehrke.

It rained Sunday. Oh, yes! It never rains but it pours. Florence Peterman, Bernice Bogie and Wilhelmina Des Ormiers came to this same old conclusion when they went canoeing Sunday. The rain wasn't wet enough for them so they decided to try out the lake water. They came home drenched. We do hope that they will not catch cold.

TAINTER HALL ELECTION.

The new election at Tainter Annex reveals the following: House president, Dorothy Nish; proctors, Helen Nowak, Fannie Schock, Ruth Hammer.

ANNEX RE-ELECTION.

Monday night at 7:30 the Annex held a house meeting and had their election of officers for the coming six weeks. Those elected were: President, Dorothy Nish; 1st Floor Proctor, 2nd Floor Proctor, Fanny Schrock; 3rd Floor Proctor, Ruth Hammer.

Miss Case Talks In Assembly

On Monday of last week, at assembly period, the student body received some very good pointers as to their conduct in applying for positions from Miss Case. It was an exceedingly instructive talk and was especially helpful to the Sophomores, because at the present time they are applying for positions. Miss Case especially emphasized the importance of promptness in applying for positions, because in many cases, this meant a position for the applicant, and also saved considerable trouble on the part of superintendent to whom the application was to be sent.
Miss Case also emphasized the importance of keeping in touch with The Stout Institute office as to your whereabouts after leaving Stout. She recited several cases of students who had failed to do this and as a result lost some very good positions. She also asked that some of the girls notify the office especially when they married, so that they might change the name on the directory of students.

Dr. Harvey Gives Talk

On Dependability

The fourth of Dr. Harvey's talks was given in assembly last Wednesday, the subject of which was "Dependability." This trait of character was especially emphasized by the story of the major overseas who received a medal, not for his gallantry in action, but for keeping the men in line trenches well clothed and fed.
Dr. Harvey also brought out the point that your being re-elected to your position depended a great deal upon how you could deliver the goods.

PHI SIGMA PSI INITIATES.

Last Monday the Phi Sigma Psi club initiated their new members.

The following girls were taken in as members: Lillian Nelson, Helen Denison, Rachel Gilbert, Viola Hahn,
Mae Lampeit, Mabel Leavit, Florence
Davis, Dorothy Vernon, Hester Miller, Bessie Graham, Florence Peter-man, Leone Sullivan, Bernice Boggy, Ester Micheels, Mabel Coates, Evangeline Peacock, Antonia Wersonske, Bertha Gehrke, Helen Nowak.

NOTHING LIKE THIS HERE. BRILLIANT PROM

AND A SOB STORY.

At Madison last Friday was held the Junior Prom, in the state capitol, ablaze with beauty, declared to be the most simple yet brilliant social event staged there. Honor was paid returned soldiers, and to the great flag with 3,000 service stars and 50 gold stars.

A Sad Story.

The State Journal tells the following:

A pretty young co-ed, dressed for Prom, waited throughout the night in one of the sorority houses, but her Romeo failed to appear.

On a cot in a police station cell sat demonair Jerome Bjerke, 18 years old, freshman at the university, in evening dress, including beiled shirt, white kid gloves and patent leather pumps.

When Jerome invited the lady fair to attend prom he had failed to consult his 17-year-old bride. She heard of Jerome's plans and had him arrested on a charge of wife abandonment.

The warrant was served by a heartless bluecoat as Jerome mounted the steps of the sorority house. But his Juliet—the co-ed, not his wife—waited and waited. She knew nothing of his arrest.

In superior court the youthful "fusser" pleaded not guilty and resumed his seat on the prisoners' bench to hope against hope that some one might appear with the $1,000 bail money necessary to gain him liberty while he waits his trial May 3.

Last fall while Jerome was serving his country in the S. A. T. C. he and Georgiana stole a march on their parents and were married. Then Jerome's father discovered that his son had cheated the law by "faking" his age.

To whom it may concern:

Carbolic acid means good-bye in any language.—Ex.

LOCAL BUZZ

Flora Streiff went to Eau Claire on business Saturday.

Hertha Behnke has signed up for Viola, Wisconsin.

Elona Dugdale has accepted a position at Galesville, Wis.

Eleanor Heinhardt has signed up for Cuba City, Wis.

Elona Dugdale's father was here visiting her over the week end.

Heard at Homemakers:

Miss Turner: "Never mind boning the fish in the kitchen. We'll take out our own bones at the table."

Miriam Wilson and Helen Defendorf went to Eau Claire Saturday shopping.

Dorothy Donlin in English: A key-ser is a wonderful sight to be seen by an audience extending 50 feet in the air.

Bernice Blanchette went to Glenwood city Saturday to make a personal application. Here's luck to you, Bernice!

Alice Tobey went to Homemakers Saturday night. No wonder everything is peace and quiet on First floor middle lake now. Miss Case has even suggested that we don't need proctors any more.

Does anybody at Stout answer to the name of Don? Bernice Brady was heard talking in her sleep to some such person!

Fannye Schrock has her old position at Spokane, Wash., waiting for her for next year. Fannye tells us that the teachers there are getting $150 raise next year. A word to the wise is unnecessary.

Wolfe's greenhouse certainly did a rushing business Friday evening. The Annex girls know it all right. Several of them were heard to remark that they wish there was a prom every week. We wonder how the fellows feel about it.

Margaret Jacobson's friend, just returned from overseas, spent the week end with her. Margaret wouldn't tell his last name. Three guesses on why!!

We'll have to give it to the Freshmen for their appropriate choice of color decorations in representing their class.

Mr. Leischman thinks that variety is the spice of life. Especially with town girls.

Why does Mr. Owen leave town every week end. That's the proof of being married.

Do you know why it did not rain the night of the prom? Dan Blide carried an umbrella.

Where did the wafers go that were left from the Stout Prom? Ask Clemenson?

Coach Miller said he got up at 4 o'clock the other morning to go fishing?

Dan Blide says he is going home in June by way of Duluth to visit Gagnon?

Florence Davis is carrying a heavy course this year—Home Economics and "Art."

Miss Ethel Shanks of Detroit, Mich., spent the week end at the home of Gladys Jacobs. From here she left for Minneapolis.

Did you know that Miss Krueger's favorite pastime is fishing. She has been seen bait casting in the swimming pool.

The Freshman Prom lacked nothing. Even the piano was tuned for the affair. Also did you notice that the programs were printed at Stout. "Bill" Fisher was responsible for this.

The men at Inenfeldts are wondering what Fisher was trying to slip from the house Saturday night.

Did you get your tag for the Visiting Nurse and Charity association last Friday?

Chester Knight, a last year student who is teaching in North Carolina, is in town visiting a friend! This account for "Deff's" happy smile of the week.

Did you notice who "Liesch" had at the Freshman Prom? Guess the County Fair did more than bring in $216.71! It looks like Liesch really meant what he sang that night.

We wonder why Paul did not visit the annex this week?

Will "Tony" kindly inform us as to the exclusive postoffice for the purpose of purchasing stamps?

"Bogie" has developed into a pugilist. She was heard to exclaim the other day: "You stay up there. If you come down before dinner I'll lick you."

Hand your subscriptions to the Industrial Arts Magazine to H. K. Snively.

Miss Bernice Blanchett has signed up to teach at Glenwood City this coming year.

It has been noticed by some of the Industrial Arts students that some of the girls at the annex play baseball. The question has been raised, why not have a H. E. baseball team.

This happened in the Elementary Forging class.

Mr. Jarvis: "Jennerjahn, what is oxy-acetylene welding?"

Jennerjahn: "Oxy-acetylene welding comes in tanks."

The girls who had their food sale were not able to have it at the High school on account of the field meet, so they simply followed the H. S. people to the meet and sold everything except a few cookies. They made about $12.

A good many Victory Loan buttons have been seen at Stout this week. According to Chairman Frank Pierce of the Victory Loan organization, Dunn county will go over its quota $42,500. Already Menomonee is $5,000 above its $80,000 and subscriptions are still coming in.

The Stout students that attend the Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregation church enjoyed a basket social last Thursday evening. The weather being nice they ate outside the church and afterwards games were played and at 7:15 the different Stout students could be seen going in the direction of their respective dormitories, all reporting a good time.

Alice Durbin and Dorothy Nish finished an interesting thesis this week. They were cataloging the amounts and costs of the Stout S. A. T. C. eats. The food alone amounted to something over $2,000. About 1,000 pounds of potatoes were used, 900 gallons of real milk, 768 loaves of extra-size bread and, 268 pounds of chicken. There were no kidney beans, due to the Dorm. bunch who had a monopoly on them.

The boys aren't the only ones who have positions. Four girls, namely, Jessie Matthews, Hertha Behnke, Elana Dugdale, and Antoinette Turner have signed up. Miss Matthews will teach in Birmingham, Ala., the other three near La Crosse.

EIGHT WEEK CLUB.

You are going to hear a lot about Eight Week Club in the next few weeks, girls.

This is their motto—"Do Ye the Nexte Thyng."

And their watchword—"Others."

And their club poem—

"What doest thou," I asked a budding flower,

"To sweeten life?" It nodded from its bower.

"I'm growing!"

"And what doest thou," I asked a child who quaffed the cup of joy.

"To help the world?" he laughed.

"I'm growing!"

A laden apple tree, old, gnarled and sore,

Bent down and rustled softly in my ear,

"Keep growing!"

An aged man, with child upon his knee,

Echoed again the wisdom of the tree,
 "Keep growing!"

"What shall I do," I asked an angling bright,

"When age draws nigh?" Then smiled he, from his height,

"Keep growing!"

Reach out to pastures new, where the soul feeds;

Reach out and up—God knows the spirits needs—

"Keep growing."

"How did that race between the zebra and the giraffe come out?"
 asked the little Jinks.

"It hasn't been decided yet," said Jenkins. "The giraffe's head came in two feet ahead of the zebra's, but his tail was three feet behind."

The Wounded Man Speaks.

I left an ear in a dugout.

When a shell hit made us dance;
 And at Belleau Wood where the mixing was good

I gave up a mitt for France.

I lay on a cot a-smoking

And thought I was getting well,
 But the moon was bright on the bomb-plane's sight
 And the Gothas gave us hell.

They certainly spoiled my beauty;

And my leg is a twisted curve;
 They busted me up like a mangled pup,

But—THEY DID NOT BUST MY NERVE!

CLASS IN MILL WORK.

A new class in mill work has been started under the instruction of Mr. Hanson, and is composed of Freshmen who have had no previous machine work.

The new machines were introduced by Mr. Hanson, followed by the safety rules. The boys have become familiar with the machines now, but off and on need Mr. Hanson's aid. The other week a belt broke, so preliminary steps of belt lacing were introduced.

The course is well planned out, and this week the saw has been discussed. Knife grinding, lumber, belt lacing, etc., will be brought in later. The main purpose of this course is to acquaint the boys with the shop machine. Each fellow in the class has been assigned some shop duty, and these have been very well taken care of.

Mr. Sorenson and Mr. Foss gave the rest of the fellows a demonstration of workmanlike ripping the other day. Mr. Camp, who was one of the members, left school last week.

The work is very interesting, as is proven by the way the fellows have taken hold of it.

IT ISN'T THE SCHOOL—IT'S YOU.

If you want to go to the kind of school,

Like the kind of a school you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip

And start on a long, long hike,
You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new.

It's a knock at yourself when you knock your school.

It isn't the school—it's you.

Real schools are not made by students afraid.

Lest somebody else gets ahead.

When every one works and nobody shirks,

You can raise a school from the dead.

And if while you make your personal stake,

Your neighbors are making one, too;
Your school will be what you want to see—

It isn't the school—it's you.—Ex.

Junior and Senior Classes Have Picnic At The Point

On Thursday afternoon, the Juniors and Seniors lost all their dignity by picnicing at the Point. Would you believe that they played tag; had a thrilling and closely contested game of ball until Hovlid made a hit which shattered the baseball (orange, rather) into dozens of pieces; ate everything that was eatable; and christened Mr. Ray with orange juice? But here's a secret—there was something wrong with the coffee! Biddick and Marty suggested that the coffee had been left out, but we notice that they found that cream was equally good to drink Gladys and Emma Jane ought to be put on the Stout baseball team. Someone please tell the coach what good players they are!

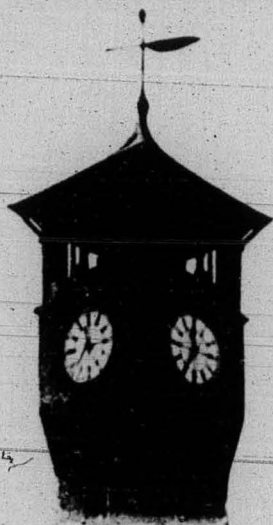

The time to embark for Krogstad's pavilion came all too soon. We were glad to meet Bauman just leaving the landing in search of the picnic party—he had "overslept." And French, we missed you, did you "ove sleep," too?

We all agree with Lillian that it was the "bestest" time we ever had.

PHI SIGMA PSI PICNIC BREAK-FAST.

You'll have to get up pretty early to get ahead of the Phi Psi girls! At least you would have Saturday morning. 7:30 found them congregated at Krogstad's boathouse ready to paddle up to picnic point for breakfast. Four of the girls had gone on ahead at 6:30 and started a fire so that the coffee was boiling? and the potatoes were roasting? when the rest of the crowd got there. Aside from the fact that the coffee was a bit weak and the potatoes a trifle "rare," it was a good breakfast and much enjoyed by everyone present. There were no accidents except that Tony Versonski got her feet wet. We aren't telling how!

We'll see you at the ball game Saturday afternoon.

Program Planned For The Alumni Reunion

The lure of a spring visit to beautiful little Menomonie and our dear Alma Mater is proving too strong for many of our alumni to resist; but undoubtedly the well-planned program which has been arranged hath its charm also.

Program is as follows:

Friday.

Committees of students meet trains and entertain visiting Alumni.

Friday Evening.

Banquet at Hotel Royal.

Toasts and remarks by Alumni and returned soldiers.

Address by Dr. Harvey.

Dance after banquet, at gymnasium.

Saturday Forenoon.

Visiting Vocational classes and shops and laboratories.

Saturday Afternoon.

Mixer meeting in Auditorium.

Talks by Dr. Harvey and by Alumni.

Picnic and recreation at Point or at Riverside Park.

Sunday Forenoon.

Baccalaureate Sermon, Stout Auditorium.

We heartily invite and urge you to participate with us the pleasures of this jubilant Home-Coming. It is planned for you.

Stout Wins Opening Game

In a game full of thrills, Stout in the first of the ninth rallied and not only bunched their hits but put over three runs as well, winning the game 5-2.

The hitting and fielding of both teams being about on a par, it was soon seen that the game would resolve itself into a pitching duel between Henke of Stout and Williams of Eau Claire.

Williams on the preceding Saturday had accomplished one of the most difficult and rare things in baseball, that of pitching a no-hit, no-run game. This remarkable feat for a college player had received a great deal of attention in the Chicago and other papers.

The first three innings were devoid of excitement but in the fourth Eau Claire as the result of an error and a hit managed to put two runs over the home plate. With this lead things looked dark for Stout until in the seventh when Henke and French crossed the pan to even the count.

Stout started a savage attack in the first half of the ninth and put three more runs in the score column. Eau Claire tried to duplicate but Henke held them safe.

Both teams played a remarkable brand of ball for college teams, both secured four hits, both made one error. Henke fanned 18 of the Normals, while Williams was able to cause only 12 Stout men to hit the breeze. French, Henke, Foss and Romberber secured hits for Stout, while Batson, Winter, McMahon and Williams did the same for Eau Claire.

Mr. Rodgers Gives Talk On Current Educational Problems

On Monday of last week Mr. Rodgers gave a very interesting talk on some of the current educational problems. There were three in number which he laid special emphasis on. First—The change in health education. Mr. Rodgers brought out that this was due to a large extent to the war, by the large number of men found either wholly or partly unqualified for service. The change has been in the kinds of exercises given to pupils at school; the giving of more playground work; the change in school activities, from that of including a few to all; the providing of a school nurse and health examinations of all pupils; and the providing of school lunches for students. Second—The building up of the new study of citizenship. This study will greatly broaden the students' view on the United States government and will also develop better citizenship, and also help to make better citizens out of those of foreign birth. Third—The development of Vocational Educational. This has been perhaps the greatest change in the Educative Problems. It was not wholly due to the war, as it was started a few years previous to that time. One of the greatest factors in vocational education is the Smith Hughes law. This law enforces vocational education and also helps to provide funds for its maintenance. Mr. Rodgers also brought out that teachers that are in that field now are fortunate, for in the next few years this is to be the big field for teachers, and teachers that get an early start will have a good opportunity of being directors in that field.

The Advanced Machine Shop class under Mr. Milnes has been receiving some very valuable material for the past week. Mr. Milnes has prepared and is giving to the class a list of equipment and materials for a Machine Shop class of fifteen pupils. This is especially valuable material to the students that expect to teach Machine Shop and have for a beginning problem the installation of a Machine Shop equipment.

Stout Plays Eau Claire Here Saturday Afternoon

On Saturday afternoon, May 17, Stout will play the return game with Eau Claire at the Fair grounds.

This is the only home game this year, and after the victory in the close game last week, Stout may be assured that Eau Claire is going to come back strong. Both teams have very strong batteries, of professional caliber, and some fast playing may be looked for.

Don't let the hike to the Fair grounds stand in the way of your school spirit. The team deserves your support and let's show Eau Claire some real school pep.

The game will be started at 3 p. m., and the price is 25 cents.

A PIECE OF PIE.

'Twas hinted around that Elsa
Made delicious pie.
Miss Kugel heard the rumor,
And invited her to try.

Elsa worked from noon till six
To get that pie just right;
She rolled it out, and filled it up,
And put the top on tight.

In terror Elsa watched it bake:
It wasn't acting well;
She'd forgotten the holes for the steam to escape,
So the crust began to swell.

Finally it burst on one side,
And juice and cherries flew.
Elsa was nearly frantic,
But what could a person do?

To get that pie from the oven
One really needed a hoe;
The oven was full of cherries;
Elsa was full of woe.

Now if you have accomplishments
Or things that you can do,
Just keep them dark till you leave
Stout
Or this luck may hit you.

MOVING LETTERS.

First Pater: "My boy's letters from college always send me to the dictionary."

Second Pater: "That's nothing! My boy's always send to the bank."
—Boston Transcript.

Y. W. C. A. Meeting

Miss Kugel gave an interesting talk on Mothers' Day at the Y. W. meeting last Wednesday. You remember how the boys came home from the camps telling of the many ways they were reminded of the letters they owed to mother. Miss Kugel says that it is unforgivable if we miss one letter to her. Let's remember, everyone.

Irene Fagin talked on Hull House the week before. We all hope to visit there some day, or at least, I'm sure we all do now.

Mrs. Paul Wilson entertained the girls at the old and new Y. W. C. A. Cabinets at dinner Saturday evening.

STOUTONIA STAFF ROOM.

The Stoutonia staff asserted its rights and Saturday morning took possession of the room adjoining Mr. Hague's office. Dust and old papers flew for an hour and a half, at the end of which time the members stopped for breath and triumphantly surveyed a transfigured room. One would have had to have seen the room first to appreciate the change. The rows of shelves were cleaned off, one old book rack split up for kindling, two new cupboards for copy moved in and a table covered with clean papers, and blotters arranged so each member of the staff will have a place at it. By the way, Bill Fisher got there just in time to pass judgment. He'll have to earn his place at that table. The staff is hoping to have money enough soon to buy a typewriter for the new office. If the Stoutonia isn't good from now on, it won't be because the staff hasn't a good place to work.

MR. CURRAN'S CLASS IN TEACHING INDUSTRIAL ARTS.

Mr. Curran's class in Teaching of Industrial Arts has been having some very interesting work the last few weeks. They have been observing some of the grade classes and high school classes during their recitation period. The "Socialized Recitation" is being tried out in the grades and it has proved a very interesting topic for the class.

Show your team that you are backing them Saturday.

LOCAL BUZZ

Mrs. Dan McPhail of Brandon, Manitoba spent the week end visiting Mrs. Dugan.

Thelma Johnson has signed up for Du. and, Wis., for next year.

Miss Boughton and Miss Williams were out of town Wednesday and Thursday of last week visiting schools.

Evang Peacock is certainly out of luck. Friday night up in the Chemistry laboratory she was heard to say: "I had my liver on this dish and somebody swiped it." Will whoever took it by mistake please return it to its owner.

Alice Beeson was called home last week to see her brother, who has just returned home from overseas and is suffering from shell shock.

Etta Carbett, Dorothy Dickinson, Peg Cusick and Alma Drewlow spent Saturday shopping in Eau Claire.

Elizabeth Ann Schultz has accepted a position for next year at Watertown, S. D.

The girls in Food Chemistry have been making jelly this last week. Friday Lillian was too late and didn't get her half of the apple. Something was wrong, because there had been enough, Miss McCalmat said. Everyone insisted that they had not taken a whole apple. Perhaps Miss M. was right and somebody did eat that missing half, but the girls spent the next ten minutes trying to divide 23 by 11 and get 2.

Do you like to hike? Of so, hike out to the Fair grounds Saturday afternoon and watch Stout clean up Eau Claire.

Men aren't always a necessary evil! At least so Jolly and Dug and Billy and Vi Miller say. Thursday evening they had a stag picnic up creek and they said they had the best time ever!

Four fortunates—Miss Bisbey, Jessie Mathews, Gertrude McKellar and Marguerite Grayson went to St. Paul Thursday to hear Caruso. We don't begrudge them the wonderful opportunity, but you know what Sherman said about war—well, that's what it is to broke!

A Stout girl standing in front of window where sign reads "Bureau for Returned Soldiers: 'I really don't need a bureau but if they'd offer a reading lamp, I'd bring in my brother.

Florence Nussey has accepted a position in her home town, Manitowoc, Wis., for next year.

Della Lerdall: "I'm going home pretty soon. My home is in Heaven. I'm only here on a visit."

Has everyone noticed the satisfied, fatherlike expression Coach Miller has been wearing this week. We don't blame him in the least, for early Monday morning "Jane Elizabeth" arrived at his home. Certainly the whole school joins us in heartily congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Miller, and hope soon to have "Daddy" Miller bring Jane out so we can all get a glimpse of her.

Melby was not trying to climb up the side of the canoe when he fell in the lake, but he was trying to give Archie a push.

Billie Des Amiers was overheard telling Liesch in the library that she had lost her pen in the cemetery. What could she have been doing there—copying epitaphs? More important yet, why get so confidential with Liesch?

Louise Hanscom's family, accompanied by Ethel Hicks' brother, drove down from St. Cloud, Minn., to spend the week end with Ethel and Louise.

Did you all notice how quiet the Annex was Sunday? First floor middle lake was on a picnic.

Ruth Hammer's family drove down from Galesville, Wis., to spend Sunday with her.

Dot Nish fell asleep in a canoe Sunday afternoon which accounts for her looking half baked this week.

Don't miss Y. W. Wednesday night at 4:15. Viola Hahn has charge of the meeting.

Leona Sullivan's sister from Stillwater, Minn., spent Saturday and Sunday with her.

LOCAL BUZZ.

Let's show Eau Claire that a little hije doesn't stand in the way of our school spirit.

Mr. Jarvis said in Current History that an apology to a fellow's best girl was sometimes a pleasure.

Miss McFadden, in explaining the law of contiguity, said: "If I say room 111 H. E. building, what do you think of?"

Sam H.: "You."

It has been suggested by one of the H. E. students that girls desiring the company of a M. T. student over the week-end, advertise in the Stoutonia.

For expert tempering of tools (especially milling cutters) call Louie Globokar—adv.

Some students have funny ideas about learning how to paddle a canoe, for instance, taking lessons in a row boat. This is what Riley and Globokar did Sunday.

Inquisitive Student: "Henke, what is the biggest nuisance that you come in contact with in everyday life?"

Henke: "Archie."

Steinke: "Say, Blide, did you see that girl smile at me?"

Blide: "That's nothing; the first time I saw you I laughed out loud."

—Ex.

Freshman: "You would say that that combusted, would you not?"

Sophomore: "No, it busted after it came."

Senior: "Why couldn't they cook these pickles a little longer and make them decent."

Mina Olsen: "They don't cook these pickles; they steam them."

Some of the freshmen evidently haven't learned that steaming is merely a process of cooking.)

Stoutonia Staff Picnic

At the regular Staff meeting Thursday noon it was duly voted on and decided that the Staff have a picnic. The only point at issue was whether it should be a strictly Staff affair or whether each member should be allowed the privilege of taking a friend. Knowing the members as you do, it is needless to say that the latter vote varied by a large majority. Accordingly about 6 o'clock Saturday evening the crowd left Krogtad's and fried the steak while the girls superintended and set the table. The table fairly groaned it was so full, as did the crowd after they had eaten for the same reason. There was everything from radishes and real butter to strawberry ice cream. Then they finished up by having dates. Roger Carrington had his Vic. along so after supper there was music and dancing on the green. Later in the evening Mr. Comstock called the Staff together and the members paddled out in the middle of the lake and pulling the canoes up together, they held a short business meeting to elect the new Staff for next year. The following members were elected:

Editor-in-Chief, Sam Hall
Adv. Manager, Cub Anderson
Business Manager, Roger Carrington
News Editor, Rachel Gilbert
H. E. Editor, Esther Micheels

The other offices were left open for member of the Freshmen Class coming in next year. This rather novel way of holding a business meeting appealed to all the members—and they are hoping that this at an Annual Picnic will become an established tradition.

"The shades of night were falling fast" by the time the business meeting was over so the party started for home, drifting down the lake singing.

Mr. Miller (at gym.): "Did you take a shower bath?"

Freshman: "Why, no; is one missing?"

Household Management Practice House

Clara G. Turner.

At the close of school in the spring of 1915 it was decided to open the school year in the Fall with something new in the history of Stout Institute in the form of practical work in Household Management at a Practice House. Household Management had been, for many years, a part of the Home Economics work but much of it had to be theoretical as the only place for practical application was in the cooking laboratory supplemented by occasional demonstrations by the instructor or some member of the class. These did not fill the need, for housekeeping problems in the home do not stand out as separate parts, but they should fit like dovetailing into a well organized whole. This knowledge of household management is not instinctive but the work entailed, to be carried on successfully by the future homemaker without economic waste, requires not only theoretical training but practical experience under guidance.

In former years when the home was the center of industry, daughters obtained this knowledge from their mothers, but with the establishment of factories to carry on these industries on a larger scale the home did not afford this training. The ever changing standards of education, too, began to demand that the major part of the time of the sons and the daughters of our land be spent at school with the result that marriageable daughters had academic knowledge and very little if any training in home-making.

To correct this need Home Economics departments in connection with public schools and higher institutions were established. These have improved the situation but it is only recently that Home Economics educators have felt the need for a

Miss Moore Gives Thesis in Assembly

Last Monday at assembly period Miss Jean Moore presented her Thesis on "Good and Poor Table Manners". It was a very credible worked Thesis and presented in an extremely interesting manner. Miss Moore had prepared slides on the different points of good and bad table etiquette and it brought out her points ver well.

It was not only interesting but very educational, especially to those who occupy the front rows in the assembly. The boarding houses have been very interesting places especially during the past week and following Miss Moores talk. The reason for this seems to be that the boys have been trying out the different points. Most of them have worked out admirably except the one about the position at the table, the difficult point about this is the position of the feet at the chair. The source of complaint on this point has come, by the way, from the students that are so unfortunate to be rather long from hips down.

Miss Moores talk has also stirred some of the students into action, the trouble here seems to be that it can't be decided which of the young ladies that posed for the different pictures is the best looking. Will someone help these young men to decide upon this weighty question.

Freshman Benefit Dance

The Freshmen sprang rather a pleasant bit of news on the student body Friday when notices were put on the Bulletin Board, to the affect that a dance was to be given in the Gym that evening.

It seems that everybody was wishing for such a thing to happen when it suddenly appeared that their wishes would come true. The dance started about nine o'clock and lasted until about—the usual time—"Bill" Haft had the floor in fine shape and this together with the music certainly pepped things up.

The only regret that the Freshmen had was that the crowd was rather small, and it was for a good cause too—the Freshman Bronze Tablet.

HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT PRACTICE HOUSE.

house connection with the Home Economics school or department, where all the knowledge separately gained can be collectively organized and used for the purpose of training the future home-makers in scientific household management.

At Stout Institute a house owned by the Institute was available. It was a larger house than the school desired but it was homelike and in many ways quite well suited to the purpose. It is a large house of the Colonial type with a cheerful living room, a central hall, the instructor's room, dining room, kitchen, pantry, cleaning closet, cold storage room, and bath, on the first floor. Upstairs there are two double rooms, a front and back hall, and five single rooms. All the bedrooms are provided with ample closet room and with lavatories placed in convenient relation to them.

The floors of all the rooms in the house are either linoleum covered or they have painted borders and large rugs. From this description it is evident that although the house has modern improvements it is quite typical of the old-fashioned house. It is steam heated and electric lighted. There is a coal range in the kitchen, a gas stove in the pantry which is much like the modern kitchenette, equipped in addition with a fireless cooker, and ample cupboard and shelf-space. Other comforts are an excellent and well lighted sink in the kitchen and a pass closet between the dining room and kitchen. With this arrangement, by making good use of a wheel cart and by careful planning, household duties can be efficiently performed.

Household Management is a four credit course of the Sophomore year. It is a one-semester course and each student is required to stay four weeks at the practice house before her credit is complete.

The house will accommodate nine girls and the instructor. One of the students of the Manual Training Department attends to the fires, to the care of the lawns in summer and to the shovelling of walks in winter, for his board, so that means a family of eleven to provide for.

It is so arranged that although there are nine girls in the house they are never all "new" at one time. At the end of every two weeks there is a change. At the close of the first two weeks four students leave and four enter and at the close of the following two, five leave and five enter. By this plan those who have been two weeks in the house when the groups enter, can help its members to become adjusted to their surroundings and to their duties.

The work is divided among five managers, as follows: "Manager of Meals," "Manager of Special Baking," "Manager of Care of the House and Entertaining," "Manager of Laundry," and "Manager of Special Cleaning."

On the week preceding the entrance of the group, the instructor prepares slips of paper, each of which has written on it the name of a management and the number of a room. These slips of paper are drawn by the girls and this "chance" way of finding out their duties and the rooms they are to occupy the objectionable personal element is eliminated.

Household work naturally falls into a few main divisions. There are the meal duties, including preparation and serving; the care of the house and entertaining, and the phase connected with the use and care of household linen. While at the "Homemakers," the name given our Practice House, the girls continue their regular school work and the instructor conducts her classes at school. Since so much time is necessarily spent at school, a system of schedules has been devised and much beforehand preparation is made in order to enable each member of the household to carry on her varied duties successfully.

Each manager holds her management for one week and she is required to have all her plans submitted to the instructor on Wednesday of the week preceding her management.

The "Manager of Meals" makes out her menus on cards, one for each day's menus, a copy of which she gives to the instructor. She also prepares her market orders for the different days of the week with an approximate estimate of the cost. This cost must not exceed thirty cents per person per day. The amount that has been decided upon as adequate for good living. Specific directions relative to preparation and serving are prepared for each day's meals. These are posted in the pantry where most of the supplies are stored. As an aid to economy of time and materials many standardized quantities have been worked out. Typewritten copies of these are posted in the pantry. A card index of standardized recipes is kept in a convenient place for the use of those appointed to prepare meals. Consultations are held each day between the manager and the instructor to plan for the next day and the manager in turn confers with the different members of the group. By this plan emergencies can be foreseen and leftovers can be successfully used.

In order to have the work run smoothly in the absence of the manager or the instructor the "Manager of Meals" makes out two schedules, one for the "Preparation of Meals," and the other for "After-meal Duties." These are posted in the kitchen at the beginning of the week. After they are prepared and posted, if thought has been put into them, the work should run smoothly.

Those responsible for meal planning endeavor to have wholesome, well prepared meals and to have them promptly served. Family service, which is an adaptation of the English form of service, has been adopted. Everything is served at the table with one member of the group whose name appears on the schedule for the day, acting as waitress to remove and to place the courses. An effort is made to have nicety of service with a minimum of work. The wheel cart and the pass closet are used to serve as step and time savers. Emphasis is placed on cleanliness of linen and suitably chosen dishes and silver.

Once during the week the girls are required to entertain at dinner informally with the purpose of extending to their guests homelike hospitality and courtesy. Occasionally a simple luncheon is served in the living room around the open fire to school friends of the girls. Sunday night lunch which is an easily prepared one is always served in the living room. This promotes a spirit of home life that is so frequently lacking in the school life of students.

The "Care of the House and Entertaining" the second phase of Household Management is in the charge of the manager for that work. She is really the acting hostess for the week. The door and the telephone are answered by her and she is responsible for the general good conduct of "the family." The prompt and correct observance of study hours are her direct responsibility and in the absence of the instructor she serves as chaperone for the group. When guests are present she is the house hostess to plan for their comfort and entertainment.

A schedule of "Daily Duties" is made out and posted. In preparing this the manager tries to plan the household duties so that they will fit in with the meal's duties. Co-operation and thought upon the part of those responsible promote and result in a well ordered household. Since the responsibility of the manager of meals is heavier than that of any member of group, she is not assigned any duties during her week of management. This gives her the needed time to confer with the girls and to plan and care for her supplies.

Since the free periods of the girls vary during their school day a schedule is made out to show these. This greatly helps the managers especially the "Manager of Meals" in the planning with those girls who prepare the meals for the day. One girl is appointed to prepare breakfast, two to prepare lunch, and two to prepare dinner, and the time for preparation is planned around their free time for the day.

All the household linen is sent to the school laundry run in connection with Bertha Tainter Hall and Bertha Tainter Annex, the school dormitories. The Manager of Laundry collects and lists the linen in preparation for sending, checks it and stores it on its return and distributes it at the times appointed.

Before each group leaves an inventory is taken. Torn and worn linen is put aside to be mended or for other purposes and the linen closet and other places of storage are put in order.

During the week the manager keeps a close oversight of kitchen towels and holders seeing to their removal and distribution. Each week the condition of curtains, draperies and spreads is noted and such changes and repairs as are necessary are attended to and, as the need arises, supplies are replenished.

On Saturday morning of each week the house is given its special cleaning. A schedule with specific direction is made out by the manager in charge. An allowance of fifty cents a week is made for soaps and cleaning agents. These are purchased, cared for and apportioned by the manager.

On Saturday the Manager of Special Baking bakes bread. The sponge is set on Friday at noon, made into a hard dough after dinner, put in the pans on Saturday morning and baked in the forenoon. Besides bread making the manager attends to the care of bread boxes, the cutting of bread and the care of left-over bread. By closely co-operating with the "Manager of Meals," she furthers the economical use of cooked foods and other supplies on hand.

All accounts connected with food and cleaning supplies for the week are presented to the instructor by Friday evening. A simple card index system is used. The accounts are classified into: "Groceries," "Meat," "Milk and Cream" and "Supplies from the House." All groceries and meat and milk and cream are purchased from local tradesmen at retail rates. The supplies from the house, including cooking fat, which is purchased in large quantities and canned fruit and vegetables put up at school during the canning season, are sold at cost to the managers as they need them.

The bills for all expenditures connected with overhead charges and any other need connected with the upkeep of the house are presented to the Stout Institute and are paid for through the office at school rates.

The total income of the house is derived from the board paid by the girls at the prevailing rate of $4.50 per week. The surplus, after food expenditures have been met, is turned over to the school to meet overhead charges. During the three years that the "Homemakers" has been in operation the house has been self-supporting with the possible exception of repainting and other outside repairs.

The following are the financial statements of the expenditures for three years.

Elsie Lampe has accepted a position at Wessington, S. Dak., at $100 a month.

Carrie DeShaw has accepted a position at Mobridge, S. Dak., at $115. Going up!

Tainter Annex seems hoodooed this week. Miss Case has been laid up with a sore foot since last Thursday. Helen Nowak burned both hands quite badly when an electric iron blew up as she was putting the plug in the iron. Rachel Gilbert ran a sliver in her foot about ten minutes before the dance Friday night which accounts for her limp. The cripples are all doing nicely and expect to be back in their normal condition soon.

It was suggested in the last number of the Stoutonia that a member of the H. E. Department put in an add for a member of the M. T. Department for dates for one week end. So her goes—

Friday evening the girls at Homemakers gave a little dinner-party. Each of the three girls who were leaving invited a friend in for dinner to help celebrate the grand finale. The guests all reported "good eats and a good time."

There will be a musical program at Y. W. this week. Don't miss this special treat.

The girls in the diatetics classes certainly made every little minute have a meaning all its own this week-end. Their doors were closed to visitors and some such sign as "Don't disturb these energetic people. They are working", forbade intrusion "There's a reason." Miss Bisby knows.

Report Submitted by Homemakers this week:

No dishes broken.

~~All meals served on time.~~

One pot of coffee burned.

PICNIC

You weren't at the picnic? Why, you missed the time of your life!

Sixteen of us started for the Point Wednesday night, but the wind drove us—or no, I mean we wanted to go to the red boat house for our picnic. The white caps jumped into the canoe and soaked our chaperon, Miss McFadden, to the skin. We landed wherever the wind thot best and we walked to a common meeting place.

And what do you think? We had coffee cooked on the gas (mystery!!) Hot dogs? Gracious no! We had something better than that. And did we yell and sin? I'll say we did! And we ended the picnic with an exciting canoe race.

The outcome:—

1st Capt. Sullivan and Peterman.
2nd Gehrke and B. Graham.

(Benson, with our chaperon decided at the incentive moment that she wasn't racing and gave up the fight.) Oh and by the way! We've discovered where the Stout Smoke Shop is.—Ask Mr. Biddick!!!!

Phi Sigma Psi Girls Elect Officers

At the regular business meeting Monday night the Phi Sigma Psi Culb elected officers to succeed those who are leaving this year. The following officers were elected:

President—Viola Hahn.
 Vice-President—Dorothy Vernon.
 Secretary—Mae Lampert.
 Corr. Secy.—Mable Coates.
 Treasurer—Rachel Gilbert.

When dining at the Homemaker's did you ever think that:—

The meal was planned ten days before.

And was prepared by two girls—not four.

The food was purchased yesterday.

The manager was the one to pay.

The fire went out (alas)

The girls began to shout.

The potatoes fell into the sink

And the dinner was served by jink.

The host struggled vainly to carve the meat

And all could hear the other eat.

Finally the food was all consumed

The guests pass into the living room.

The girls get up and give sigh

And rejoice—another day passed by.

Said an Irish leader: "Min, ye are on the verge of battle. Will yez fight or will yez run?" "We will!" came a chorus of eager replies. "Which will yez do?" says he. "We will not," says they. "Thank ye, me min," says he. "I thought ye would."—Ex.

Farewell Issue of The Stoutonia

Owing to the complications of the last week of school it has been decided to make this the last issue of the Stoutonia for this year.

It has been the endeavor of the staff to serve the student body, to the best of their ability, to produce a paper in the interest of all, and at the same time make it worth while from an educational aspect. We hope that this endeavor has been accomplished and that everyone has been satisfied with our efforts to reach your expectations.

We take this opportunity to thank the student body and faculty for their hearty support in making the paper a success, and also the local merchants who have so generously supported us in the way of advertising.

The Stoutonia will undoubtedly be continued in the fall, and it is hoped that the same liberal support may be depended upon at that time. We are sorry to lose so many of our loyal supporters who will not return next year, but please remember that the paper is the indispensable voice of the Stoutonia activities and we shall look for your mail order subscription.

Y. W. C. A. DELEGATES.

The Y. W. C. A. have elected the following girls to go to the Lake Geneva conference this summer:

Dorothy Nish
Flora Streiff
Ruth Hammer
Ester Michels
Lillian Gerdes
Lottie Duncan
Emma Janie Wells
Viola Hahn
Rachel Gilbert

Mrs. Dow is planning to accommodate as many of the alumnae at the dormitories as she can, during the "Home Coming" week end.

Don't forget the Glee Club Operetta, June 4.

Comencement Exercises

To Be Held June 5

Address to Be Delivered by Prof. W. A. Scott of State University—Baccalaureate by Harvey.

Plans have been completed for the exercises of commencement week at the Stout Institute.

The order of events follows:

Baccalaureate address by President L. D. Harvey. Subject: "Make Democracy Safe for the People." Sunday, June 1, 10 o'clock.

Operetta, "The Japanese Girl," given by the Stout Glee Club. Wednesday evening, June 3, 8 o'clock.

Sophomore class day exercises. Thursday, June 5, 10 o'clock.

President's reception to members of the graduating classes and their friends Thursday afternoon, June 5.

Commencement exercises. Thursday evening, 8 o'clock, June 5.

Commencement address by Prof. W. A. Scott, head of the Department of Commerce, University of Wisconsin.

All the school exercises will be held at the Stout Auditorium. The Stout Institute extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend these exercises.

SOPHOMORE DANCE.

Not to be outdone by the Freshman, the Sophomores planned and executed a dance Friday evening. The notice was put up rather late Friday morning which perhaps accounts for the fact that there was only a small crowd. However, what was lacking in quantity was made up in quality. There was a good five piece orchestra. Miss Holseth and Miss French chaperoned. Everyone reported a good time.

Student: "Doctor, will you give me something for my head?"

Doctor: "No. I wouldn't take it as a gift."

Stout Base Ball Team Gives Eau Claire Second Trimming

In a wild and woolly slugging match at the Fair grounds Saturday, Stout hit the ball so hard that the Eau Claire Normal was forced to work their pitchers in relays. Williams started in good form but Stout soon fathomed his offerings with the result that Coach Phillips waved him to the bench. Best next took a hand at flinging but Henke connected with one for home run and he in turn was banished. McMahon then went to the rescue and managed to survive through the fifth during which time Stout made seven runs. Phillips then called a halt, benched McMahon and returned Williams, who managed to weather the storm for the rest of the game.

Henke, pitching for Stout, struck out 18 of the Eau Claire team, duplicating his previous week's performance. He also secured two singles, a triple and a home run out of four times at bat. In Henke and French, Stout has one of the best batteries seen in this section in a long time and certainly by far the best that ever represented Stout. The rest of the team work was good. One of the largest week-day crowds in many seasons was on hand at the game.

FRESHMAN PICNIC.

The members of the freshman class that attended the picnic held at the Point last Friday evening, had a very enjoyable time.

There was a good representation of the feminine element, but most of the boys showed their class spirit by staying away. A few of the loyal type were there; however, and took care of the fires and traffic in a creditable manner.

A most satisfying supper was served about 6:30 and the entertainment proved that a large number of fellows is not essential to make a picnic a success.

STOUT BEATS PICKED TEAM*Wins Over All-Star Aggregation 5-1

As part of the home-coming celebrations Stout met a picked baseball team of the city's best players at Stout Field, Tuesday, and mainly through Henke's air tight pitching managed to win the game 5 to 1. The game was close and exciting enough to keep the 500 fans in constant good humor, and at times some really first-class ball was shown. Timely hitting by Stout, which scored in the first inning, one in the fifth and two in the sixth, won the game. The opponents' only score came in the fifth as the result of an error, Becklund failing to stop Henke's throw to second in an attempt to cut Solem off the base.

Kochendorfer pitched good ball and made eight of the Stout team fan. Golden at catch showed class throughout the game. Henke for Stout pitched a heady game and showed a control at all times, never passed a man to first and in addition struck out fourteen. One of the prettiest pieces of the afternoon's work was when the bases were loaded, he fanned the next three men, Metling, McDonald and Solem out in succession.

All-Stars consisted of H. Kochendorfer, Golden, Metling, McDonald, Solem, A. Kochendorfer, E. Edes, Michler, D. Kochendorfer and Taylor. On the Stout team were Romberger, Archie, Becklund, Henke, Foss, French, Hall, Clemenson and Thompson.

MENOMONIE CLUB ENTERTAINS.

"Who's all right? The Menomonte Club! Who says so? The Phi Psi girls all say so!"

Saturday evening the Menomonie club fellows entertained at an informal party for the phi Sigma Psi girls and the girls all came home voicing the above sentiment. The boys certainly "did things up brown!" For those who didn't care to dance, there was cards or croquet to play out of doors; and those who wished to dance, tripped the light fantastic in the house. Ten thirty rolled around pretty early, in fact so early that the girls nearly missed out on the eats—and they were one of the nicest features of the evening being served at tables out on the lawn. However, by process of rapid manipulation, every one was served, and ten-thirty found the girls in the dormitoris (if not in bed.)

THE JAPANESE GIRL OPERETTA

FRENCH WAR ORPHAN FUND A BIG SUCCESS AT STOUT.

Our students have certainly been exceedingly enthusiastic and loyal in fulfilling their pledges to the poor little French War Orphans, and the result has been an overwhelming success.

During the year we have supported several orphans, but after the last collection, it was found that we could pay for three more and still leave a balance of $19.09 in the treasury for next year. The total sum collected was $384.09 and ten orphans at $36.50 each amounted to $365.

Officers for next year have not yet been elected. Those in charge at present are:

Chairman—Elizabeth Schulze

Secretary and Treasurer—Lillian Fitz.

Collectors—Elona Dugdale, Alice Benson, Regina Owens, Edna Mathews Gladys Thorner, Eleanor Reinardy, Bertha Tehrke, Arthur Olson, Dorothy Nish, Anna Jackson Elizabeth Schultz.

SOPHOMORES DINNERS.

Having heard so much of the formal dinner parties the sophomore girls have been having, you might be interested to know that they have all been a huge success.

Miss Bishop's two cooking classes had their dinner last Thursday at 5:30 and as someone expressed it—"It was simply wonderful." It consisted of five courses and was served by several freshman girls.

The color scheme was purple and yellow, being carried out by the use of purple violets and yellow candle shades each candle stick having a fluffy purple moline bow tied on it.

Mrs. Messer and her mother were guests of the evening.

After dinner was over some of the girls stayed in the kitchen and did the dishes while the others went to Miss Kugels' reception room until 8 o'clock when everyone went home feeling that it had been good experience and that they were now better fitted to serve a five course dinner.

ART HENKE GETS TRY-OUT

Art Henke, Stouts sterling pitcher who hung up a record of striking out 52 men in three games has come to the notice of the American Association and was invited by the Minneapolis club to come for a trial. Cantillion was so pleased with his work that he was asked to return for further trial the last three days of this week. If Art succeeds in getting a contract from the club he can well afford to let the teaching of Manual wait for awhile.

YEARLY EARNINGS IN VARIOUS OCCUPATIONS.

The figures below represent the wages average workers in different occupations in each occupation as reported from the following cities: Baraboo, Beloit, Cudahy, Kenosha, La Crosse, Lake Mills, Mineral Point, Milwaukee, Platteville, Prairie du Chien, Rhinelander, Superior, Two Rivers, Washburn. The statistics on teachers are based upon reports from forty-six cities. It will be seen that the typical city high-school principal receives but $250 more than the average plumber. The typical high school teacher's salary is equal to that of the average hod carrier, but less than that of the average bartender. The average grade teacher is paid only $44 a year more than the average laundress who often receives one or two meals daily in addition to her wages. If the proper allowances are made for board, room and laundry in the case of general houseworkers, for board and tips in the case of waitresses and for free meals in the case of laundresses it will be seen that the average grade teacher receives less than she could earn at any calling listed here.

"KAMERAD"

I ought to shoot 'im where 'e stands.
 A whinin' 'un, with lifted 'ands.
 For 'e called me "Kamerad"! —
 ME, what's fought 'im clean an' fair.
 Played the game an' played it square.
 'E crucified me pal out there!
 An' 'e calls me "Kamerad"! —
 Ya low-down stinkin' 'ound of 'ell.
 I've seen the work ya do so well —
 YOU, what shells a 'elpless crew.
 What rapes and murders women, too.
 A bloody blackguard, through an' through —
 An' ya calls me "Kamerad"! —
 Ya bloody, bleedy, blinkin' 'un.
 After what you went and done,
 Don't call me "Kamerad"! —
 I hain't no bloomin' 'ypocrite.
 There hain't no 'alo in MY kit.
 But when ya calls me this I'm quit!
 Don't call me "Kamerad"! —

—George E. Eager, Jr.

MORE ATHLETICS.

Much was said before the war in depreciation of the young man who devoted himself to athletics. His early death was prophesied by the easy-going slug of a fellow who took his exercise with his right elbow and his recreation at bar and caravansary. Whenever an athlete died his muscular development was set down as the cause of his untimely end.

It has been made plain by the war that the athletic youth is the preferable youth to fight the enemy. It never was proved that he was less able than others to fight life's battles in the figurative sense of the phrase, or that he died sooner than the roundpaunched, soft-armed, flabby legged man.

In the army and in the navy athletic sports and games are encouraged, promoted, valued. Swimming, tennis, boxing, rowing, football, are regarded as being worth more than the time that is devoted to them. Aviators who are supple and well set up, as well as young and courageous, are the most promising candidates. It has been found that the "light hands" of the man who has ridden to hounds are as valuable in manipulating an airplane as they are in taking a spirited horse over the hunting fields and over fences. Physical training of every sort is a good asset for the young man, and how much more easily the candidate who is forty or beyond has fitted himself for military service if he has kept up since college days the habit of exercise and out-of-door life.

Sure Sign.

"And what did you say the patient did," asked the doctor, "when you ripped off the dressing?"

"Swore, doctor!" exclaimed the nurse. "He swore frightfully!"

"Splendid, nurse! I reckon you can let him sit up tomorrow!" — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Wasn't He Cute?

Wifey—"You must not expect me to give up my girlhood ways all at once."

Hubby—"That's all right. Go on taking an allowance from your father as if nothing had happened." — Brooklyn Citizen.

A FEDERAL TEACHERS AGENCY.

The Department of Labor had an elaborate plan for the organization of a federal bureau to secure employment for teachers and to supply school superintendents and others looking for teachers with suitable candidates. The experiment has been tried in a number of states of organizing public agencies to do this work which is usually committed to private commercial agencies. In working out the plans for a federal bureau the Department of Labor and the Bureau of Education had made arrangements that the bureau was to deal with special features and more important administrative positions while the Department of Labor was to deal with all elementary and high school positions. The failure of congress to appropriate the necessary funds to carry on the arrangement has put an end to most of the activities of the Department of Labor although one or two centers are being carried on through private subscriptions. It is confidently expected that the new Republican congress will give the funds necessary to go a head with the arrangement.

LOCAL BUZZ

Ester Mae Huyek, who is now assistant dietitian in St. Lukes' Hospital in St. Paul is back here spending the week end with friends.

Ruth Fitch has accepted a position in Baton Rouge, La.

Margaret Moschel and her folks drove down from St. Paul to spend Sunday with Jean Moore and Jessie Mathews.

Echel Hick's folks drove down from St. Cloud Friday evening, returning Sunday afternoon.

Miss Kugel has been conducting a short course lessons for the girls interested in eight weeks clubs. She has given the girls some valuable help in starting the clubs and the manner of carrying them on.

Saturday noon the Freshman at Tainter Hall entertained the Sophomores at a picnic dinner up creek.

Elsa Hellberg has accepted a position at Fennimore, Wis at $85 a month. Congratulations, Elsa!

J. M.: What do we have in Micro today?

E. N. "Oh, various diseases."

Jean: "I'll probably, have the stage fright then."

Helen Defendorf in cooking: "We baste pork to communicate the heat to the interior." Very scientific Daffy.

Don't forget the Glee Club Operetta, June 4.

A number of the town ladies have expressed their appreciation for the help out girls gave during the celebration for the returned soldiers Tuesday.

A tip to prospective micro student: unless you have a fondness for washing sinks, don't go late to Micro Lab. next year.

The Y. W. meeting for Wednesday is "Farewell to the Senior." Seniors be there to get a good send off. Freshman, be there to give them a good send off.

Mark Twain's idea of the worst combination of diseases was ague and rheumatism. Jean Moore has him beat tho! She says this spring fever makes her feel as tho she had the sleeping sickness and the walking typhoid.

The H. E. department entertained Tuesday at a little afternoon party for the 10th, 11th, and 12th, grade girls who are taking Domestic Science.

Elsie Sampe is expecting her sister to come for commencement.

Maude Mathews's father will be here with her during Commencement week.

Plans are under way for making Commencement week a big and long to-be-remembered one.

Alma Drewlow, Katherine Jansen, Edith Townsend and Eleanor Reinhardt spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

A number of girls expect friends and relatives here during Commencement week. Della Lerda's folks are going to drive down from Cumberland. Elona Dugdal's mother will be with her. Fern Clark's folks accompanied by Miss Dollie Bishoff, a former graduate of Stout, expect to drive down from Ashland, weather permitting.

Wanted: Any one wanting lessons in Ford driving apply to Bill Fisher. He is unusually good at backward driving, and knows the operations of the brakes perfectly?

Mr. Rays Architectural Drawing class took one day off last week and inspected houses in this city. Every member of the class enjoyed the trip.

We've all watched that little affair between Tony and Red. Its most amusing!

It is truly painful to see Leishman walk across the library with a look on him like this was the smallest school he owned. Leishman is a hard boiled proposition but when you get to know him he is quite soft. If you don't believe it ask &—&—&—!?

Miss Simpson:—"Edna why are you making so much?"

Edna: "Well, you just break five plates and see if you can make any less."

Miss Kugel and Mr. McCalmont were seen up creek Friday evening. We saw the canoe, but where was Miss McCalmont?

We hope that you won't disappoint your friends at home as you did us at the picnic. Bessie, because He won't be there either. (Or will he?)

Two favorite songs at the Annex
1. "Keep your shades down Bonnie Jean."

2. "Oh my love, wont you please pull down your curtain?"

Freshman:—"Why the beaming smile Tony is wearing the last few days?"

Sophomore:—"Oh, Hammes called her up last Sunday."

The next time Steve Gavin and "Donlin go to the library, they had better do only library work."

Class had begun and all was still,

A girl rushed down the hall;
She gasped! she stumbled! nearly a fell

And leaned against the wall.
Too weak to cry out the alarm,
Or else she didn't dare,
She groped her way down to the door,
And went out in the air.

Walter: "We do all our cooking here by electricity."

Customer: "Take this egg out and give it another shock."

Professor: "What would be the motive of a person who skipped school for a day?"

Student: "I am not sure; probably self preservation."

He: "I've been fighting for your hand for a long time, but am beginning to get discouraged."

She: "Nonsense; press on."

Mr. Foss: Because it makes the floor upstairs expand.

Mr. Hanson: What is free moisture.

Mr. Govin: Free moisture is moisture on the surface of a board.

During the past weeks the mill class has completed the work on saws, and now are applying the material. Several of the fellows have been sharpening saws & of course seem to succeed. Last week a call for 204 flag stands came to the class. Mr. Hanson decided on a scheme for holding the flags and this was worked out. The stands were to be used for holding the flags, that were placed on the street, for the celebration of the soldier's who returned. The problem was a good shop test and we hope they served the purpose.

Letter Writing a Special Talent.

Henry Dwight Sedgwick in the Yale Review: Letter writing is a special talent; it may go with a high order of intellectual power, as in the case of some of the enumerated worthies, or with rather an empty pate; and on the whole, in ordinary life, intellectual people are poor letter writers. Mathew Arnold was a great disappointment; and, to my way of thinking, James Russell Lowell was disappointing, too, with his elaborate wit, his polished style, his ex cathedra decisions on matters of literary taste. But it is hard to judge letters of a past generation; turns of phrase vary, that which once was novel becomes stale, the glitter gets tarnished, opinions then full of daring and adventure are now elementary principles. But still as grammarians deduce rules of grammar from the practice of great writers, so epistolary novices may learn general principles of structure of framework, of the proper method of passing from one subject to another. Classical letters should certainly be introduced into the curriculum of schools attended by the children of what used to be known as the leisure class.
